Guj on thin ice on remission: SC

Calls out selective application of policy to prematurely release 11 lifers in Bilkis rape case

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

WARNING that the Gujarat government was on thin ice regarding the premature release of 11 convicts who gang-raped Bilkis Bano during 2002 Godhra riots, the Supreme Court on Thursday sought to call out the state's selective application of its remission policy.

While Gujarat submitted that the convicts were released after complying with the requirements of state's Premature Release Policy of 1992, a bench of justices B V Nagarathna and Ujjal Bhuyan asked why the government sought the Godhra district judge's opinion instead of that of the Maharashtra sessions judge, who had sentenced them to rigorous life imprisonment in 2008.

The 1992 policy was applicable to prisoners who had completed 14 years of imprisonment. It also mandated the Inspector General of Jail to obtain the opinion of the District Police Officer, District Magistrate, Jail Superintendent and Advisory Board Committee for the early release.

The court also sought answers regarding the provision under which the Advisory Board Committee was formed and the date it was constituted.

Terming the crime heinous, the bench questioned state's selective approach on the remission policy. "Why the policy of remission is applied selectively? Opportunity to reform and reintegrate must be given to every prisoner and not only a few prisoners. How far is remission policy being implemented in all cases where prisoners have completed 14 years in jail?" Justice Nagarathna asked.

"In this case, you are saying that there's a specific mandamus. If none would have applied, what would've been the case? CBI will not straightaway step in. They will have to be referred...either by court or by government. So it's is negative opinion in all cases. All said and done, it was investigated by CBI... You are on thin ice," Justice Nagarathna added.

Heinous, but deserve chance to reform: Guj

Additional Solicitor General S V Raju, appearing for the Gujarat government, said the crime committed by the 11 convicts was heinous but they deserve the chance of reformation

WRITERS SEEK PROTECTION, TO MEET HM TOMORROW

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

HOME Minister G Parameshwara has directed the state police chief to provide security to Kannada writers who have been getting threat letters. A team of writers will meet the Home Minister on Saturday.

Writers SG Siddaramaiah, Vasundhara Bhoopathi, Kum Veerabhadrappa, Prof Marulasiddappa, Banajagere Jayaprakash and others have sought police protection, citing the killing of journalist Gauri Lankesh and Prof MM Kalburgi.

In a letter to the Home Minister, Prof Marulasiddappa stated that more than 15 writers and intellectuals have received threat letters from communal forces and people with similar thoughts.

Professor Marulasiddappa urged the Home Minister to take steps to safeguard their freedom of speech and expression and direct the police to give them proper protection.

The Home Minister said the state government has taken this matter seriously. "We have not forgotten the killing of Gauri Lankesh and Prof Kalburgi. I have directed the police officers to give protection to writers. We will get all details from the writers during the meeting on Saturday," he added.

A few months ago, writer Vasundhara Bhupathi filed a complaint at Basaveshwara Nagar police station stating that she received a letter warning her not to associate herself with writers such as Siddaramaiah and Baraguru Ramachandrappa. Kum Veerabhadrappa had received a letter accusing him of being anti-Hindu and to be ready for his funeral.

Banajagere Jayaprakash told The New Indian Express that he had received 13 such letters since June 2022.

"We get such letters whenever we give statements against the government on matters such as revision of textbooks. The letters were posted from different parts of the state. The previous BJP government constituted a vigilance team. Even now, we are getting such letters. We will discuss the matter with the Home Minister," he said.

Half of Ashoka faculty demands reinstatement of asst prof Das

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

MORE faculty voices have come out in support of Ashoka University assistant professor Sabyasachi Das, who resigned after his paper highlighting possible manipulation in the 2019 general elections faced backlash.

Many present and past faculty members and students have demanded the unconditional reinstatement of Das, who taught economics and sought to set up a panel on academic freedom. The protests picked up pace after another economics professor Pulapre Balakrishnan resigned, protesting against Das' ouster. Political science, sociology, and anthropology departments also showed solidarity with Das after the departments of economics, English and Creative Writing sought his reinstatement.

As many as 87 faculty members, including from history, maths, and physics departments, have written to Vice Chancellor Somak Raychaudhury stating that free thought within universities in India is in crisis. They demanded that all decisions on matters related to academic freedom should be put on hold till the promised Committee for Academic Freedom is in place. The letter signed by 87 faculty members was on Thursday reposted on X by Amit Chaudhuri, author and prof of creative writing.

The Ashoka University Student Government posted on X, "The student body must be informed of the creation and functioning of the Academic Freedom Committee. There must be NO role of governing body in evaluating faculty research. We expect the student body to be kept up-to-date with details of the Faculty meeting." 150 Punjab villages marooned

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE flood situation in Punjab worsened on Thursday following release of excess water from Bhakra-Nangal and Pong dams into the swollen Beas and Sutlej rivers. The flood waters have inundated at least 150 villages in six districts of Punjab, disrupting normal life. The authorities had issued fair warning and nearly 9,700 people were rescued, officials said.

Meanwhile, two teenage boys accidently fell into a swollen rivulet in Gurdaspur district, where they had gone to watch the rising water level. Their bodies were recovered later. Another person went missing in Kapurthala district.

According to official sources, 70 villages in Gurdaspur are affected and around 5,000 people have been evacuated from the district.

In neigbhouring Hoshiarpur district, 18 villages are under water, officials said. The number of affected villages in Taran Taran district is estimated at 39. In Ropar district, some 15 villages are affected while in Amritsar district, one village is hit.

Himanshu Agarwal, deputy commissioner of Gurdaspur, said that multiple teams of the National Disaster Response Force, Army and Border Security Force have been pressed into service to rescue marooned villagers.

Officials fear the flood situation may escalate further as heavy rain is expected in upstream Himachal Pradesh, where the catchment areas of Pong and Bhakra dams lie.

The Punjab government has already sounded a red alert for the downstream districts of Gurdaspur, Amritsar, Hoshiarpur, Kapurthala and Tarn Taran.

FLOODING MAY HAVE DAMAGED 90% OF PADDY CROP

Will ask Cauvery authority to reconsider decision: DKS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister DK Shivakumar on Thursday said the state government will appeal to the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) to reconsider its decision directing Karnataka to release 10,000 cusecs water to Tamil Nadu daily for 15 days.

The government is also considering convening an all-party meeting to discuss the issue, he said. Shivakumar's statement comes after Opposition BJP and JDS as well as farmers' organisations slammed the government for releasing Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu and not protecting the interests of farmers in the state.

Shivakumar, who is also the Minister for Water Resources, said there is scarcity of water due to rain deficit. "Still, we released water to Tamil Nadu. But they (Tamil Nadu) are not satisfied. The inflow into our reservoirs is poor in view of the weak monsoon. The situation is such that we have to save water even for drinking purposes. Hence, we will request the CWMA to reconsider its decision," Shivakumar said. P4

Teesta not allowed to enter IISc campus

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

IN another case of blocking activists entering its campus, Indian Institute of Science (IISc) has been accused of preventing activist and Citizens for Justice and Peace (CJP) secretary Teesta Setalvad from entering.

Setalvad was to deliver a talk on "Communal Harmony and Justice" on the IISc campus on Wednesday around 5pm, organised by Break The Silence. A few hours before the talk was to start, students alleged they had been informed that permission was not given for the talk.

"We had asked for permission a week in advance and had continuously asked for updates from the IISc authorities. However, they said they would update us, but never did. A few hours before, we were called to the registrar's office and informed that the director was not in office and it was not possible to give permission for the talk at the hall we had booked. However, we were told the talk could still take place on the campus," Shairik Sengupta, a student who had helped organise the talk, told TNIE.

Despite being accompanied by a student, Setalvad was prevented from entering the campus by security guards. "Usually, visitors are asked to log their details before entering. The guards can prevent entry if they are not informed about the visit. However, this was not the case as it had been informed," said Surjadipta De Sarkar, another student.

The issue was resolved only after some faculty members approached the guards and demanded to speak to whoever had asked to prevent Setalvad's entry, Shairik said.

The talk was held on the campus at a cafeteria. However, students from other colleges were prevented from entering the campus.

This is the second such incident at the institute. "When we invited activists Natasha Narwal and Devangana Kalita, they had cancelled the event as the authorities were not aware, despite seeking prior permission. But this time around no communication was given at all until just before the talk," Shairik said.

Vikram starts solo journey towards lunar south pole

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

CHANDRAYAAN 3's Vikram lander on Thursday successfully separated from the propulsion module in a crucial step that allows it to make a solo journey to achieve a soft-landing near the lunar south pole on August 23.

The landing spot is between Manzinus C and Simpelius N craters near the lunar south pole, and will be named after a successful landing.

India awaits with bated breath for this historic moment, which it missed when the lander crashed while attempting to soft-land on September 7, 2019.

ISRO on Thursday confirmed that lander Vikram had successfully separated from the propulsion module and is now expected to land near the lunar south pole.

ISRO on X platform (formerly Twitter) quoted Chandrayaan 3's message relayed after its separation from the propulsion module: "Thanks for the ride mate. LM (Lander Module) is successfully separated from the Propulsion Module (PM). LM is set to descend to a slightly lower orbit upon a deboosting planned for tomorrow."

After the separation, the lander is expected to undergo a "deboost" to place it in an orbit of 30km X 100km, from where soft landing on the south polar region of the Moon will be attempted. The next deorbiting manoeuvre is scheduled for Friday at 4 pm, ISRO said. The process of deboosting will reduce the speed of the lander module to achieve a soft landing.

ISRO Chairman S Somanath had explained, "The velocity at the starting of the landing process is almost 1.68 km per second. But this speed is horizontal to the surface of the Moon." P7

All set for Moon landing

The separation means the lander will no longer be dependent on the propulsion module. From now on, the lander, carrying the Pragyaan rover inside, will complete the manoeuvres and soft-land at the site. The lander will find a flat surface to make soft-landing to ensure smooth touchdown

Data Protection Act a benchmark for others: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

COUNTRIES are now seeing the Digital Personal Data Protection Act (DPDP Act), which was passed recently by Parliament, as a benchmark in how to allow and create innovation and Digital Public Infrastructure (DPI), and at the same time protect digital citizens from issues such as data leaks, said Union Minister of State for Skill Development and Entrepreneurship and Electronics and IT, Rajeev Chandrasekhar.

Inaugurating the G20-DIA (Digital Innovation Alliance) Summit in Bengaluru on Thursday, he said technology and innovation are beginning to make a dramatic inclusion of people, who were kept out of the reach of governance for several decades.

Chandrasekhar added that the digital economy will contribute over 20% of GDP by 2026 from the present 11%. It was 4.5% of the GDP in 2014.

"The pace of digitisation is accelerating at an unprecedented pace and the country is certainly a pre-eminent nation in how we have adapted technology. The centre of gravity of tech, which used to be in a few countries and centred around a few companies, is moving to open source systems to younger startups that are disrupting the normal. These two trends are in turn capitalising on the broader trend of increased and faster digitisation," he added.

Three broad topics that are being discussed in the DEWG (Digital Economy Working Group) and as part of G20 are DPI, cyber security and safety and digital skills.

Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology Secretary Alkesh Kumar Sharma said having almost 107 unicorns and over 100,000 startups, India is now one of the fastest growing startup ecosystems in the world

The summit featured sessions with Indian unicorn founders, industry experts, policymakers, investors and influential thinkers. Startups also showcased their solutions across six themes - Education, AgriTech, FinTech, Healthcare, Digital Infrastructure, and Circular Economy.

In one of the sessions, Ankit Fatehpuria, Co-founder, Zetwerk, said, there are a host of opportunities in India, in manufacturing. With Government schemes around PLI, the local manufacturers have joined in and with the shift of supply chain, the world is now looking at India.

Also, the White Paper, 'Secure Digital Infrastructure', which scans the landscape of cybersecurity, was launched at the summit.

ACTOR GANESH ACCUSED OF FLOUTING BANDIPUR ESZ RULES

ENS @Bengaluru

FOREST Department officials have written to Kannada actor Ganesh to stop the construction work on his property which is in the Eco-Sensitive Zone (ESZ) of Bandipur Tiger Reserve.

In the letter issued on August 14, officials of Bandipur have asked Ganesh to appear before the ESZ committee members and give an explanation. Director of Bandipur Tiger Reserve Ramesh Kumar P and members of the ESZ committee stated that the construction being undertaken on 1.20 acres of land bearing survey No 105 at Jakkalli village in Hangala hobli of Gundlupet taluk is in violation of ESZ rules.

A forest official said when the actor was questioned about the use of earthmoving vehicles, he stated that they were used to level the uneven rocky surface. The members of the ESZ committee said the actor sought permission for a temporary structure and a garden. However, during their inspection, Kundakere range forest officials found that earth was removed using bulldozers which changed the natural land course. Preparations have been made there to construct a big building. "This violated the rules agreed by you that no permanent building will be built. Construction work should be immediately stopped and action as per law will be taken," forest officials and committee members stated in the letter.

A meeting of the committee was held in June 2022 and Ganesh replied in March 2023. The officials said that Ganesh replied that he is constructing a temporary structure for personal use and not for any commercial activity. No homestay or resort is being constructed and all rules are being followed, the actor stated in his reply.

Kumar told TNIE that the work being done there and the permission sought do not go together. So, an explanation has been sought from the actor.

When contacted, Ganesh refused to comment.

Woman drinks poison outside police stn; boyfriend arrested

Case filed against her; accused had gone back on promise to marry her

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

A 23-year-old customer support executive attempted suicide near the Bommanahalli police station by consuming juice laced with rat poison. The victim was in a relationship with her colleague who is alleged to have impregnated her on the promise of marriage and later forced her to abort.

The victim Priya (name changed) hails from Davanagere and is a resident of Garvebhavipalya. The accused, identified as Harshavardhan, a quality analyst, was arrested by the police on August 14.

When Harshavardhan went back on his promise to marry her, Priya went to his parents, but even they did not give their consent. Frustrated, she filed a complaint with the Bommanahalli police on July 19. Following this, the accused went absconding.

On August 14, the police managed to trace him. Expecting that he would agree to marry her, she rushed to the police station in Roopena Agrahara. When he again refused to marry her in front of the police, she came outside and went to a nearby juice stall. After purchasing juice, she mixed it with poison and drank it. When she fell unconscious, a few auto drivers and passersby shifted her to a nearby hospital.

The victim had met the accused at their work place in October 2022. The two were initially friends and later fell in love. The police had registered a case for causing miscarriage and other sections of the Indian Penal Code against Harshavardhan when she complained against him on July 19.

After she attempted suicide and was admitted to hospital, the police filed a medico-legal case and recorded her statements in front of a duty doctor. "The 26-year-old accused has been arrested and sent to jail. The woman has been discharged from hospital. Even she has been booked for attempting to commit suicide," said an officer.

The woman is said to have requested the police to withdraw the complaint after the accused was arrested and sent to jail.

65-year-old in hospital after chain snatchers push her

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

A 65-year-old woman fell unconscious after falling and hitting her head on the road when two miscreants attempted to snatch her gold chain.

Reema Parameshwaran, a resident of 5th Main in NRI Layout in Kalkere, was bringing her granddaughter from dance class in the evening when the chain snatchers targeted her near their house. Showing presence of mind, the little girl ran home and informed her parents, who rushed to the spot and shifted Reema to a hospital. The victim's daughter, PR Shruthi, told TNIE that her mother is still under treatment but there is no life threatening injuries.

The incident happened a few days back between 8.30 pm and 8.45 pm. The accused, who were on a two-wheeler, stopped near the elderly woman. One of the accused came near the victim and pulled her gold chain. When she held on to it tightly, the accused pushed her on the road. When she refused to let go of her chain, the accused escaped on the two-wheeler.

"My mother is recovering. My daughter was with her when the accused tried to rob her. Luckily, she did not sustain any life threatening injuries. We have not been updated about the arrests by the police," Shruthi said. Reema was rushed to a nearby private hospital in TC Palya. From there she was shifted to the Manipal Hospital in Whitefield for further treatment.

"As it was a medico-legal case, the hospital reported the matter to us. We visited the spot. The case is still under investigation. A case of causing hurt in committing robbery under section 394 of the IPC has been registered against the unidentified accused," said an officer.

The Ramamurthy Nagar police have registered a case.

HC stays all FIRs registered against Upendra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday passed an interim order staying all first information reports (FIRs) registered under the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Act against actor Upendra for allegedly making a casteist remark on a Facebook live chat and also FIRs to be registered in future on the same issue.

Justice Hemant Chandangoudar passed the interim order after hearing the petition filed by Upendra who questioned the FIR registered against him by Halasuru Gate police on a complaint by Bharat Harishkumar, president of Karnataka Ranadheera Pade.

Upendra contended that the Supreme Court, in several judgments, held that a second FIR on the same issue is not permissible. In this case, the incident is the same, yet a second FIR has been registered.

He stated that the proverb that he used on the chat had nothing to do with insult to Dalits or any intent to insult people belonging to SC and ST communities. The proverb is generally used to state that criticism is bound to be there and one need not be unduly perturbed.

One of the FIRs registered by the CK Acchukattu police in the city was stayed by the high court on Monday, following the petition filed by Upendra.

It was stated in the petition that Upendra has been talking to people through FB Live about the ills that ails society and the transformation that is required in society to eradicate corruption, discrimination and other evils. On August 12, 2023, in his talk, he said criticisms are a part of life and used a proverb in Kannada 'Oorendre Holageri Iruthe'.

After his talk, certain people started criticising him for using the proverb. He deleted the episode and apologised to people.

Association says Food dept officials collecting bribe from distributors

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru, Bengaluru

JUST months after assuming power, the Siddaramaiah-led Congress government, which is plagued with corruption charges, is facing another serious allegation.

PDS Distributors' Association state president T Krishnappa, in a press meet held at Mandya on Thursday, alleged that officers of the food and civil supplies department are collecting commission for every ration card from PDS distributors.

Krishnappa said there is a rate card for the commission that is followed at various places. "For a fair price shop that has 500 cards (for PDS distribution), a distributor has to pay Rs 3,000 as commission to the officer. It is Rs 4,000 for shops with 800-1.000 cards. Higher officials have even set a target for their lower-rung staff. A high-level probe has to be ordered and officials must be suspended," he demanded.

He urged Chief Minister Siddaramaiah to hold a meeting with PDS distributors, who will give him information about corrupt officials. He warned that the chief minister's brainchild Anna Bhagya will turn out to be a big failure if the commission racket is not stopped.

Krishnappa has also written to Food and Civil Supplies Minister KH Muniyappa, mentioning a particular incident at Pavagada. The minister has now ordered a probe.

"We have evidence that for the last four years, food shirastedar Krishnamurthy and food inspector Manjunath have been collecting Rs 2,000-3,000 from each distributor per month to release the commission amount due to distributors. This means that even after the change in government, corruption has continued. It will reflect on the image of the present government," Krishnappa told TNIE.

Officials resort to the strategy of delaying the implementation of government proposals to get a bribe from distributors. "Even as the Central government has issued an order to release Rs 24 per quintal of foodgrains as additional commission to distributors, officials have not taken any step," he alleged.

He urged the government to take strict action against corrupt officials, besides transferring those who have overstayed in the same place for several years. Krishnappa said the government owes a commission to the tune of over Rs 1.5 crore to distributors.

Cong releasing water just to help I.N.D.I.A ally: Oppn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

OPPOSITION parties have blamed the Congress government of sacrificing the interests of Karnataka to strengthen the opposition alliance -- I.N.D.I.A -- and to please its ally Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (DMK) by releasing Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu.

The BJP and Janata Dal (Secular) took the Congress to task, saying that the party is prioritising political gains over the interest of farmers.

Former CM and BJP leader Basavaraj Bommai told reporters on Thursday that it is apparent that political interest is the reason behind the release of Cauvery water to the neighbouring state.

The national opposition parties floated I.N.D.I.A recently and the DMK is part of it.

"Never in the history of Karnataka has any government yielded to Tamil Nadu's demand without first trying to safeguard the interests of the state. To please its ally, the DMK, the Congress government is releasing water soon after the Tamil Nadu government approached the Supreme Court. It is clear that the Congress has sacrificed the interests of farmers with an eye to its political prospects in the upcoming Lok Sabha elections," Bommai said.

JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy felt that the Congress was using the Cauvery issue to strengthen the opposition alliance and stated that the state government was kneeling before TN, keeping in mind the upcoming parliamentary polls. He expressed anger that the Congress had damaged the self-esteem of Kannadigas by doing so.

Slamming the state Congress government for releasing Cauvery water, Kumaraswamy urged Chief Minister Siddaramaiah to stop releasing water to the neighbouring state immediately. He has also demanded that the CM call an all-party meeting and stress on following the distress formula.

Stating that the Congress government is not taking opposition parties into confidence in such crucial issues, the former CM urged the government to clarify why it hastened to release water to the neighbouring state without first taking steps to convince the Supreme Court or consulting legal experts and opposition leaders.

Attacking Water Resources Minister DK Shivakumar for his statements that the decision to release Cauvery water lies with the Centre and that the farmers can go to court on this matter, the JDS legislative party leader asked whether Shivakumar was minister of Karnataka or Tamil Nadu. "If the Centre has the keys to Cauvery water, what is his (Shivakumar) role in it? Now are the keys with Stalin (Tamil Nadu CM) or Sonia Gandhi?" he said.

MLA Darshan Puttannaiah and farmers stage a protest opposing the release of Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu, near KRS dam on Thursday | UDAYASHANKAR S

Farmers protest against release of water to TN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

OPPOSING the release of Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu, farmers, led by Melukote MLA Darshan Puttanaiah, staged a protest in front of KRS dam on Thursday. A large number of farmers gathered in front of the dam and raised slogans against officials and the state government demanding that the release of water be stopped immediately.

Puttanaiah said farmers in the region have been asking officials to release water to canals. "How can authorities release water to the neighbouring state without first releasing water for farmers here? Water must be released for standing crop. The distress formula suggested by the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) needs to be considered, especially at a crucial time like this when there is deficit of rain and inflow to the dam," he said.

He questioned on what formula or approximation are the officials releasing water. "I will immediately go to Bengaluru and discuss the matter with the minister and officials concerned," he said.

Meanwhile, a similar protest was held in Srirangapatna, wherein farmer leaders under the leadership of Krishne Gowda ventured into the river to draw the attention of the government.

Almatti dam filled to the brim

Almatti up to brim despite scanty rain

FIROZ ROZINDAR @Vijayapura

DESPITE scanty rainfall, the Almatti Dam, one of the largest reservoirs in the state, filled up to the brim on Wednesday evening. The water level reached the dam's maximum of 519.60 metre and the total storage capacity of 123.081 tmcft.

Inflow into the dam began only on July 12. To fill various small dams and tanks as a precautionary measure, water is being discharged from the crest gates.

The Krishna Bhagya Jala Nigam Ltd (KBJNL) started releasing water into canals from July 27 and will continue to do so in a regulated manner till November 23. On Thursday, the dam received 2,153 tmcft of water and all of it was discharged.

Due to heavy rain in Maharashtra and the Western Ghats in the last week of July, the dam has been receiving over 1.5 lakh cusecs of water every day. With the inflow declining from the first week of August, the outflow was also reduced to store water to fill up the dam.

Meanwhile, the newly constituted Irrigation Consultative Committee (ICC), which will regulate and monitor water release for irrigation purposes, is scheduled to hold its first meeting on Monday at the Managing Director's office of Upper Krishna Project in Almatti. The meeting will be chaired by Excise Minister RB Timmapur, who is also ICC chairman.

MLAs and MPs of riparian taluks of dams are members of the committee. MLAs, MLCs and MPs of Vijayapura, Bagalkot, Koppal, Raichur, Yadgir and Kalaburagi too are members.

GOVT MULLS ALL-PARTY MEET ON CAUVERY

ON JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy's demand to convene an all-party meeting, Shivakumar said there is nothing wrong with his demand. "Not only Cauvery, issues such as Mahadayi and Krishna should also be discussed. We are thinking of calling an all-party meeting," he added. The Deputy CM said that BJP leader and former CM Basavaraj Bommai has written to the state government asking it not to release water to Tamil Nadu. "Even when his party was in power, water was released to Tamil Nadu in times of distress. Water was released even when HD Deve Gowda was the prime minister. There is no need to politicise the issue. Tamil Nadu is seeking release of water when we are in distress," he said.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah holds a meeting with Law and Gadag District in-charge Minister HK Patil in Bengaluru on Thursday | EXPRESS

IN all, 31 meetings covering all districts, attended by 136 MLAs and spread over 50 hours is all it took to iron out issues with Congress MLAs by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah.

The chief minister spoke personally to the legislators and listened to their concerns. Many party MLCs and MPs too took part in the meetings that were spread over five days. The idea of interaction with the MLAs was mooted at the Congress Legislature Party meeting to ensure a greater role for legislators in the administration.

Siddaramaiah, whose resources are stretched as funds because of implementation of guarantee schemes, instructed officials to take up development works and address grievances based on priority and availability funds, keeping in mind the Lok Sabha polls.

The chief minister instructed his team to take up works following scheduled timelines. Many legislator openly expressed their demand for essential works to be taken up in their respective constituencies. Views of district in-charge ministers were taken on the issues raised.

Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister Shivakumar kept giving their suggestions during these meetings. Siddaramaiah told the MLAs that priority is effective implementation of five guarantees, which have to be taken to the doorsteps of the middle-class and poorer sections. He also told them that the polls were a priority and the MLAs should ensure a good victory for Congress in the upcoming BBMP and LS polls.

It is said that a team has prepared a list of scams that took place during the previous BJP government.

Siddaramaiah instructed each minister to compulsorily visit party offices in their respective districts and listen to the grievances of workers. A team of officials and staff from the Chief Minister's Secretariat will prepare district-wise separate demands and progress lists and submit them to the concerned ministers and district in-charge secretaries.

Now, one call centre for all farm queries

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

Minister N Chaluvaraya Swamy inspects the centralised call centre in Bengaluru on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

THE Agriculture Department has launched a centralised call centre for farmers where they can get details of all central and state government schemes. All existing eight call centres have been merged, and farmers can now call the dedicated toll-free number (18004 253553) with queries, said Agriculture Minister N Chaluvaraya Swamy.

The minister on Thursday said the centralised call centre was mooted as farmers were finding it difficult to contact each call centre to get details on schemes and farm-related information. "We would get around 500 calls a week from all these eight call centres, which we are hoping to increase with one dedicated number," he said.

According to him, the centralised system will likely help more farmers address their problems and get the benefits of schemes. The government is also planning to include interactive voice response and artificial intelligence to reach more farmers.

He said between June 1 and August 16, there should have been 601 mm of rainfall in the state, but only 474 mm was recorded, which is a 22% deficit. He said July alone recorded rain deficit of 29%.

Vigilance team has 12 staff

According to a press release from the Agriculture Department, out of 33 sanctioned posts in the vigilance team, 21 are vacant. There are only 12 staffers across the state. The team has seized 385 quintal of sub-standard seeds and 3,200 quintal of fertiliser. They have also cancelled the licences of 10 agencies for selling substandard seeds, fertiliser and other material.

Cong tries to net BJP leaders ahead of Lok Sabha elections

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru

CONGRESS, which lured leaders from other parties ahead of the Assembly elections to score big, is trying a similar strategy with the 2024 Lok Sabha polls approaching. The move is causing ripples within BJP, which is struggling to find a pan-Karnataka leader, a la BS Yediyurappa, to hold the party state unit together and to fend off such threats. Seeing an opportunity, Congress headed by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and DCM DK Shivakumar, have set out to poach leaders from the saffron party.

One such likely target for Congress is Yeshwanthpur BJP MLA ST Somashekar, who had called a meeting of his supporters recently where he was told to join the Grand Old Party. Nelamangala Congress MLA Srinivas, who was also present at the meeting, claimed that Somashekar is likely to join Congress.

As a counter, BJP leaders, including party state president Nalin Kumar Kateel, former chief minister Basavaraj Bommai and senior leader CT Ravi, called up Somashekar on Thursday and assured him of addressing his concerns with a section of local BJP leaders averse to him. Former union minister DV Sadananda Gowda met Somashekar and discussed various issues, including the latter's resentment in the BJP.

"Somashekar was disappointed with some BJP workers in his constituency as they had joined hands with JDS to defeat him in the Assembly polls. Siddaramaiah will accept him if he rejoins Congress. KPCC president and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar has given me the task of bringing Somashekar and his supporters back to Congress," Srinivas asked.

Shivakumar giving similar tasks to other partymen to attract leaders from other parties cannot be ruled out. Former minister KC Narayanagowda too is on the radar, sources said.

Somashekar's switch, if it happens, could help Congress win 20 of the 28 Lok Sabha seats in the state which is what Siddaramaiah has promised the party high command.

Like Somashekar, many turncoats, including former ministers Shivaram Hebbar and Byrati Basavaraj, are said to be deciding on their political futures., sources added.

Congress is eyeing big leaders from BJP to field them as its candidates in Lok Sabha polls.

Kerala has no funds to pay for welfare schemes

M S VIDYANANDAN @ T'Puram

FISCAL constraints of the state government are likely to deny Onam festivities to many. The unprecedented financial crisis being faced by the Kerala government has resulted in default on payments, affecting lives of thousands of people — from farmers, school noon meal workers to beneficiaries of various welfare schemes.

The 6,000-odd endosulfan victims in Kasaragod are the worst affected as the monthly payment due to them under the Snehasanthwanam relief scheme has been pending since April. "Its beneficiaries include children and senior citizens. Most of them are disabled or suffering from cancer and other serious illnesses, and are dependent on others for basic personal needs. These families are in dire straits," says activist P Krishnan.

Nearly 28,000 paddy farmers are yet to get payment for the grains procured by the government. The government owed a total of ₹433 crore to 54,000 farmers. Recently, ₹72 crore was sanctioned for 26,000 farmers. "We are into the next cropping season and the government is yet to give the money for the previous season. Many farmers did not sow this season owing to financial problems," said Muthalamcode Mani, Palakkad district president of the Desiya Karshaka Samajam. The government contractors are also feeling the heat. The bill payments to government contractors are made payments through a Bill Discounting System (BDS). Under this, the government arranges loans for contractors from banks or the Kerala Financial Corporation for the bill amount.

"Banks charge 10% interest and the government would provide half of it. We have to bear 5% interest for no fault of ours. The government is yet to issue this month's order on BDS. This month, we have to make extra payment to workers as it's festival season," said Sunny Chennikkara, general secretary of the KGCA.

'ISOLATED INCIDENT IN A SINGLE BATCH': UBL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the news of sediments and particles found in two brands of Kingfisher beer by the excise officials on Wednesday, the officials of United Brewers Limited (UBL) have issued a statement saying that they are cooperating with the investigation.

An official release issued by UBL on Thursday said, "UBL has identified a slight haze in a small portion of Kingfisher Ultra beer bottles produced on July 15 at our Nanjangud brewery in Mysuru. We promptly notified the authorities and are actively cooperating with their investigation. This is an isolated incident in a single batch of Kingfisher Ultra only and not Kingfisher Strong." The release also said they had conducted an external independent lab (NABL accredited) analysis of the impacted Kingfisher Ultra batch which confirmed that the test parameters are within regulatory guidelines and, therefore, poses no health risks. "We are working closely with authorities to clarify the situation,"said UBL spokesperson.

Chandrashekhara's marriage cancelled due to arrest

GOWDA said in November last, Saudi Arabian police arrested Chandrashekhara in a bank fraud case involving Rs 22,000 (approximately Rs 4.87 lakh). It was only then that Chandrashekhara realised through his friends in Riyadh that fraudsters had opened a bank account in his name using his documents.

Gowda said Chandrashekhara's marriage was scheduled for January and it had to be cancelled due to his arrest.

The fraudsters had transferred SR 22,000 from the bank account of a woman in Riyadh to that of Chandrashekhara (opened fraudulently). Then the money was transferred to another bank account outside Saudi Arabia. Chandrashekhara was arrested after the woman, who lost her money, lodged a police complaint, Gowda said. Chandrashekhara's mother Hemavathi appealed to the district administration, local MP and MLAs and the Ministry of External Affairs to help get her son released from the Saudi jail.

"We will appeal to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar to ensure Chandrashekhara's early release. Union Minister Shobha Karandlaje has stated that she will take up the matter with the External Affairs Minister," Gowda said. He said Chandrashekhhara's friends in Riyadh have spent nearly Rs 10 lakh to fight his case. Social activist Shashidhar Shetty said a social media campaign will be launched seeking justice for Chandrashekhara.

Annadurai: Last 20 minutes of lander's journey most crucial

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

ON Chandrayaan-3's Lander Module (LM) Vikram and rover Pragyan separating from the Propulsion Module (PM) on Thursday afternoon, Padma Shri awardee and former Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) scientist Mylswamy Annadurai said it is a great "milestone".

"From now onwards, the lander's activity comes into picture," he said, adding that after today's milestone, the next most exciting and nail-biting event would be the last 15-20 minutes of the lander's journey to the designated landing site on the Moon's south pole.

"It will take 20 to 30 minutes for the spacecraft to soft-land on the site. That would be an autonomous movement. Mission scientists at ISRO will programme it a day earlier, on August 22, but the final landing of Vikram will be autonomous," said Annadurai, also known as India's Moon Man. He was the programme director for India's earlier moon missions - Chandrayaan 1 and Chandrayaan 2.

He explained that after the separation of the lander from the PM, the next major event will be on Friday, August 18, when four 800 Newton thrusters will undergo flight firing to take Vikram to the lower orbit. The final firing to lower the spacecraft from 30 km height from the lunar surface will happen on August 23 at 5.47pm. The precision of the last orbit manoeuvre is critical. The real activity will start when the velocity will be reduced to one to two metre per second before the lander soft lands at the proposed landing site on the Moon's south pole. Giving details of the lander's last leg of its journey to the Moon, Annadurai said the velocity at the starting of the landing process is almost 1.68 km per second, but this speed is horizontal to the surface of the moon. While the horizontal velocity is being brought down, the vertical velocity will come up because of lunar gravity. That will also be reduced by proper orientation. The touchdown velocity of the spacecraft will be one metre per second," said the famous aero-space engineer.

ISRO Chairman S Somanath had recently said the most critical part of the landing is the process of bringing the velocity of the lander from 30 km height to the final landing. "It's a trick we have to play. We have done a lot of simulations. It is here where we had the problem last time (Chandrayaan-2)," he had explained.

Speaking about Luna 25 - Russia's first lunar lander, which is scheduled to land around Chandrayaan-3, Annadurai said that Luna25 is exclusively for landing at the moon. "It doesn't have a rover. There's a possibility that the landing site may get polluted because of the thruster plumes," he said.

"In Chandrayaan-3, its six wheeled rover (Pragyan) will move away from the lander after it soft lands on the Moon between 100 metres and 500 metres marking the beginning of 14 Earth Day planned scientific exploration. It will be an undisturbed lunar site," said the Moon Man.

Lander to scout for flat spot

"CHANDRAYAAN 3 here is tilted almost 90 degrees, it has to become vertical. So, this whole process of turning from horizontal to vertical is a very interesting calculation mathematically. We have done a lot of simulations. It is here where we had the problem last time (Chandrayaan 2)," Somanath said.

Last week, Somanath said, "If all the sensors fail, nothing works, still Vikram will make a landing. That's how it has been designed, given that the propulsion system works well."

On Thursday, ISRO scientists' confidence received a major boost after the separation. The separation means that the lander will no longer be dependent on the propulsion module. From now on, Vikram lander, carrying the Pragyaan rover inside it, will complete the manoeuvres and soft-land at the site. The lander, using its sensors, will scout for a flat spot on the surface to make a soft-landing to achieve stability after touchdown.

On Wednesday, ISRO Telemetry, Tracking and Command Network (ISTRAC) successfully completed the last manoeuvre on the propulsion module to place it near circuitous orbit of 153km X 163km before Thursday's separation with the lander was carried out.

After achieving a soft-landing, the lander will deploy the rover to conduct on-site experiments. The lander itself will continue its own studies with its payloads.

The propulsion module, developed by ISRO's UR Rao Satellite Centre in Bengaluru, after the separation continued in its orbit of 153km X 163km.

INDIA'S GLOBAL IMAGE RESTS ON INTELLECTUAL FREEDOM, FREE IDEAS

Prime Minister Narendra Modi announced in his Independence Day speech that his government is laying the foundation that will stand India in good stead for the next thousand years. India is indeed creating world-class physical infrastructure that will spur the next round of growth, making the nation the largest economy in the world after the US and China. The economic benefits this growth will accrue will lift tens of millions out of chronic poverty and bring widespread prosperity. The main factors which will contribute to this growth are intellectual and academic freedom and the free flow of ideas. These are the areas that need the government's attention. India does not appear to be doing too well in these areas.

The highly reputed V-Dem Institute in Sweden, in the 2023 update of its Academic Freedom Index, rated India among the 22 countries and territories, out of the total of 179, where institutions and scholars enjoy significantly less freedom today than they did a decade ago. The backslide in intellectual and academic freedom, as evidenced by raids on research organisations and forced expulsions from centres of higher studies, portends ill for the road ahead. India needs to provide space for all shades of thought to flourish.

The latest case in this regard is the resignation of an assistant professor of economics from Ashoka University in the National Capital Region. His research paper on the 2019 Lok Sabha election, titled Democratic Backsliding in the World's Largest Democracy, created an uproar which led to his exit. The University's academic community is protesting his resignation, seeking for it to be rejected. Earlier, the vice-chancellor of the university, a known government baiter, had to resign from his post. Similar events were witnessed at Jawaharlal Nehru University, Visva Bharati University, South Asian University, and many others. India's premier research organisations, such as the Centre for Policy Research, have also been at the receiving end of the government's wrath.

As India moves up the economic ladder and prepares to assume leadership, it is essential to ensure an unfettered exchange of liberal and democratic ideas and thoughts. These elements set us apart and make us more acceptable than the other economic behemoth—China.

NEW FOREST ACT NEEDS UNIFORM INTEPRETATION

Controversy continues to trail the Forest (Conservation) Amendment Act, 2023. The latest issue is an executive order from the Odisha government's Forest, Environment and Climate Change department, which directed all district collectors to formulate forest diversion plans for government projects as per the provisions of the new law, which was ratified by Parliament recently and granted presidential assent. But what raised hackles was that the August 11 order stated the concept of "deemed forest" stood removed under the new Act. Owing to criticism, the state government put the order on hold. There were two things fundamentally inappropriate with the order. Firstly, it came even before the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEFCC) could officially issue the rules and guidelines. Second—and more importantly—was the department's take on deemed forests. Critics were quick to point out that the MoEFCC had submitted before the joint parliamentary committee reviewing the FCA Bill 2023 that "deemed forests" enjoyed protection in line with the SC's order in the T N Godavarman case (1996). But the Odisha government's order wanted to do away with the concept of "deemed forest" itself.

For the time being, the matter appears to have cooled down, but apprehensions continue to linger. This is mainly because the new Act has been, from the very beginning, seen as problematic insofar as the exemptions it provides for are concerned. While the Centre's fast-tracking of key infrastructure projects on the grounds of strategic reasons and security concerns has been vehemently contested, the issue of deemed forests remains contentious in the absence of clear data in the public domain. Though notified as well as recorded forests will fall under FCA 2023, the exact volume of deemed forests needs more clarity given that the survey was conducted decades ago. Deemed forests are also inhabited by tribal populations, whose fears about their future is not entirely out of place, given the propensity of most governments vis-à-vis development projects.

While it will only be prudent for the state governments to wait for the Centre to issue rules and guidelines under the amended Act, the onus will be on them to offer clarity about these land parcels to allay apprehensions. In such a scenario, it is necessary that the new Act is interpreted in a manner which is uniform. For that, both the Centre and states must not act in haste.

QUICK TAKE

GENERAL SURGERY UNPOPULAR

Indian medical education authorities worry that general surgery is becoming the least preferred and competitive surgical speciality. Most top-rankers chose general medicine and radio diagnosis, against four for general surgery, in this year's MD/MS admissions list. General medicine is considered the fastest route to super-specialisation and a stable income. General surgery takes years of training, is expensive, with unpredictable work hours and stressful family life. The West is dealing with the issue by making general surgery the core of medical education, multidisciplinary and innovative, defining it in terms of sub-specialisation areas, and restructuring the general surgery residency programme to make it more appealing.

Democracy flounders when governments and their instruments, the civil servants, act with anger and brutality

CIVIL SERVANTS AND THE BREAKDOWN OF BALANCE OF POWER

K M CHANDRASEKHAR

Former Cabinet Secretary and author of As Good as My Word: A Memoir

SOUMYADIP SINHA

As far as Parliament is concerned, the bill depriving the elected government of the National Capital Territory of Delhi of most of its control over the administrative executive is done and dusted. It was no more than what was expected and only served to showcase rare unity in the new opposition alliance, despite murmurs from individual members of the Congress. It also showed that YSRCP was brought to heel and that BJD is entirely Odisha-bound. Overall, a victory for the government and not an unsatisfactory result for the opposition parties.

However, the issue still hangs in the balance. The Supreme Court is still to rule on the constitutional propriety of the Delhi Services Act, which it will take up after the case on the abrogation of Article 370 is decided. In a sense, there is a similarity between the two Articles under which Parliament acted in J&K and Delhi. Both have inbuilt provisions to alter their provisions. The provision under Article 370 has a much wider ambit.

Under 370(3), "Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing provisions of this Article, the President may, by public notification, declare that this article shall cease to be operative or shall be operative only with such exceptions and modifications and from such date as he may specify." Thus, the Article can be rendered inoperative, albeit after consultation with the Constituent Assembly, whose role was appropriated by the Legislative Assembly or even the Governor on numerous occasions.

The corresponding provision about the Delhi government is more restrictive. Article 239AA(7) gives Parliament powers to "make provisions for giving effect to, or supplementing the provisions contained in the foregoing clauses and for all matters incidental or consequential thereto." It also says that such provisions do not require amendment under Article 368. The question arises as to whether the structure of governance can be materially altered under a provision that allows only parliamentary action to supplement the provisions of the Article and for matters incidental to such supplementation.

Prima facie, the Supreme Court seems to hold a different view. In its last judgment, it said that the elected members had been chosen by the voters to "act in their stead"; that in a democracy, officers report to their ministers, who report to Parliament or the Legislature, which, in turn, is accountable to the people that elected it; and that ideally, the Government of the National Capital Territory of Delhi "ought to have control over Services".

By using Article 239AA(7), effective control over Services has now been taken away from the elected government. Does this amount to supplementation or amendment under Article 368, which can happen only if the government secures a two-thirds majority in both Houses?

To me, the more important issue is how the present situation will affect the administration as a whole and civil service in particular. Officers are of various kinds. Some are professional, straightforward and honest, and are placed in a dilemma because they are no longer clear about the chain of command. They do not want a risk either way as uncertainty looms large. Their normal reaction would be to go into their shells; thus, we have the phenomenon of "policy paralysis". Others love to exercise power. They will blossom in conditions where accountability to the people is unclear or diluted. Their immediate response would be to exercise ruthless power merrily.

In the past few years, we have witnessed extreme action by governments and civil servants. We recall the violence unleashed in some northern states against those who protested the Citizenship Amendment Act. The farmers of Punjab were ignored for a long time without attempts to solve their issues until the elections in UP were around the corner. Democracy flounders when governments and their instruments, the civil servants, act with anger and brutality.

The Prevention of Money Laundering Rules were drafted and promulgated when I was in the Central government as revenue secretary. At that time, the Rules were confined to a few pieces of legislation, and sufficient safeguards were provided to prevent misuse. Since then, the Rules were repeatedly amended by the UPA and the NDA governments to become the leviathan it is today. It is said that it is being used against the opposition selectively. I cannot comment on this because I do not know the facts. I have, however, come across cases of unbridled authority misuse in the bureaucracy's lower rungs and growing corruption. Once a monster is let loose, it can no longer be restrained.

When I initially took charge as revenue secretary, I considered the CBI a friend, an organisation that would help me curb corruption in revenue services. The practice then was that the file for grant of permission to the CBI to act further would pass through the secretary to the minister. I naively used to pass all such cases to the minister under the mistaken impression that the CBI would have submitted only those cases on which they were sure of the facts. Until I found that an officer, generally considered honest, had to face the humiliation of a CBI raid on his house, apparently instigated by a CBI officer with some difference of opinion. After this incident, I was exceptionally careful, studying each file and calling CBI officers for personal discussions before passing it on to the minister.

However, all these instances of mischief at the lower levels pale into insignificance in comparison with the wanton use of bulldozers by district officers to pull down houses and shops. It takes time, effort and resources to build a house or a livelihood, but bringing it down in moments is so easy. It is also possible that some of our civil servants enjoy the surge of power they get, throwing people, including women and children, out of their houses and depriving many of their means of subsistence. Uncontrolled communal conflict in Manipur, in which local police and civil servants also participate, is another instance of a balance breakdown at multiple government levels. Encounter killing is another instance of the rule of law gone berserk.

The British Raj needed the so-called "steel frame", but the Constitution and democracy now supplant it. I fear our actions are now rebuilding a steel frame of horrific dimensions.

There are critical issues, therefore, riding on the Supreme Court's decision on the Delhi Services Act.

WHY IT IS IMPORTANT TO REMEMBER PARTITION

ANURAG PUNETHA

Senior Journalist and Media Head, Indira Gandhi National Centre for the Arts

"I would rather have every village in India go up in flames than keep a single British soldier in India a moment longer than necessary," said Jawaharlal Nehru to Louis Mountbatten's suggestions. This was Nehru's declaration at the time when India was about to get her freedom. Such was the depth of feelings. One's future is determined by the things one picks. The first prime minister of the nation may have been more committed to seeing India free from the British even at the expense of witnessing every hamlet in the nation burn to the ground. Millions died as the country burned due to Partition, which saw one of the largest human migrations ever recorded, with millions of Muslims from India migrating to West and East Pakistan, and millions of Hindus and Sikhs migrating to India. The number of fatalities is unknown. Anyone's choice of numbers reveals more about their political preferences than it does about the truth. Who was responsible for such a colossal loss of lives?

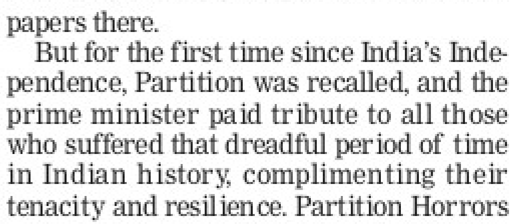
The extent of the Partition horrors has been widely attributed to Lord Mountbatten. However, is it possible to absolve Nehru, Jinnah, and even Gandhi of the blame? When Mountbatten was still working out the specifics of his strategy, Gandhi informed Mountbatten that he had two options: There would either be another period of British rule or a slaughter. "What ought to I do in that case?" Mountbatten had questioned. Gandhi's response was: "You must face the bloodbath and accept it."

Could Gandhi and Nehru avert the massacre? No one can be sure as things were different then. Considering that the Partition is one of the most horrific events that took place in the world at that time, is it not imperative that this tragedy of humanity be recorded, comprehended, and read in its entirety for the benefit of the next generation? The most prominent criticism of this suggestion is that it serves no purpose to remember such old injustices at this time; opening old wounds serves no purpose. The past has long gone and shall never return. But as Elie Wiesel, Nobel laureate and Holocaust survivor, famously said: "To forget would be not only dangerous but offensive; to forget the dead would be akin to killing them a second time."

The post-Partition generations of India, with the same rationale and indifference, have killed once again those people who died in the process of division.

There are many such tales surrounding Partition—like how amid the pogroms in Punjab and Bengal, Mountbatten was busy celebrating his 25th wedding anniversary, with all the major leaders of the Congress and Muslim League in attendance and happily raising their wine goblets. Another one goes that Radcliffe fled to London on August 17 after hastily drawing the lines of Partition and then burned all the Partition papers there.

But for the first time since India's Independence, Partition was recalled, and the prime minister paid tribute to all those who suffered that dreadful period of time in Indian history, complimenting their tenacity and resilience. Partition Horrors Remembrance Day serves as a reminder that history should not be forgotten but rather learned from.



WIKI COMMONS

> As time passes, the direct witnesses of Partition are dwindling. Remembering the horrors ... helps preserve this historical memory for future generations, ensuring the lessons learned from this history continue to resonate for years to come

As time passes, the direct witnesses of Partition are dwindling. Remembering the horrors during Partition helps preserve this historical memory for future generations, ensuring that the lessons learned from this history continue to resonate for years to come.

There have been serious accusations that need to be examined in all contexts. Pushing the muck under the carpet has helped the altered narrative flourish and has deepened the communal chasm. It's imperative that all parties speak up and explain the true significance of Partition Horrors Remembrance Day. Blood stains are not easy to remove for they remain etched forever in the psyche of those who have suffered.

The story of Partition and the transfer of power is incredibly thrilling, intriguing and full of conspiracies. When millions of people were sacrificed for the leaders' gain, successive governments were unable to respond in a way that was proper. This may be why Partition has resulted in such a powerful corpus of fictional literature in India and Pakistan and such woefully inadequate historical narratives in films. The reason for this was probably because there was inadequate data due to the government's fear of being unmasked. But remembering the horrors can contribute to the healing and reconciliation process for families and communities that were directly affected. It provides an opportunity for open dialogue and understanding.

India has stopped accepting the diversity of its own thoughts and has begun to put people in boxes based on their individual ideologies. This is because of the hangover of Partition, which still lingers. As a result, a profound sense of loss has set in. India's diverse religious landscape has stories of interfaith harmony and coexistence that provide important examples of unity in diversity. If India wants to retain its cultural kaleidoscope, it must correct its historical inaccuracies first.

We all can learn from Nehru when he made three predictions to a journalist before Partition: One, India will never be a Dominion. Two, there will never be a Pakistan. And three, When the British go, there won't be any communal trouble in India. When the same journalist came back to Delhi just after Partition to interview him again, Nehru brought it up himself, saying wistfully, "Wasn't I wrong."

Nehru had the guts to accept his being wrong. We hope his successors also have the guts to acknowledge their errors. If India wants to heal from her wounds of Partition, the best medicine is to accept the existence of the wound first. No doctor can heal a scar until the scar is acknowledged. It is high time as we cannot afford to go wrong now.

Diversity problems

Ref: Diversity no licence for divisiveness (Aug 17). It is sad that even after 76 years of Independence, the UCC has not been enforced solely to placate the minority vote bank. Unless and until UCC is enforced, real secularism will not prevail here and utter divisiveness alone will thrive. Some outfits blindly or meaninglessly oppose UCC and advocate personal laws, relying on the futile constitutional right of freedom of expression.

End ragging

Ref: End Ragging, don't turn campuses into centres of violence and fear (Aug 17). It is high time the Central and state governments intervene to eliminate ragging in educational institutions. The new academic year is about to begin for several institutions. The governments should announce that the licence and recognition of institutions where ragging takes place will be cancelled.

Jadavpur case

The Jadavpur case is not the first of its kind in the country. The physical and mental abuse by the so-called seniors is so intense that the victim cannot share his or her trauma with parents, for the simple reason of feeling shame or not wanting to traumatise them. Students must receive counselling on campus to report such incidents without fear.

Gender equality

Ref: Eve-teasing, housewife set to be out of legal lexicon (Aug 17). The SC's initiative to eliminate gender-insensitive terms from court language is laudable. That's a step closer to gender equality. But a doubt remains: won't there be cases where language reform can do more harm than good to women?

It is quite interesting to read that the SC felt certain words referring to women are undignified and suggested alternatives. Some words like 'adulteress', 'affairs' and 'eve-teasing' are fairly benign terms used euphemistically, but the alternatives are more humiliating than the words used currently.

Malnutrition woes

Apropos of 38% of Gujarat population undernourished: Niti (Aug 17). It is a grave situation that children are malnourished in the PM's home state. The government should make suitable arrangements to provide a balanced and nutritious diet to the children. Poverty and lack of awareness can be the reasons which need probing.

TWEETS OF THE DAY

Hemant Soren @HemantSorenJMM

BJP-AJSU ruled Jharkhand for 20 years... And acted in such a way that Jharkhand was made the most backward state of the country.

Jairam Ramesh @Jairam_Ramesh

That the Adani group had played a huge role in lobbying for the 3 black farm laws was an open secret widely speculated on during the farmers' protest.

Chandra Shekhar Aazad @BhimArmyChief

Social justice will not be achieved by demanding, we have to get it through the power of vote. We have to prepare for this on our own.

For the first time, the saffron party has come out with names of candidates much before Election Commission's announcement of poll dates

1st list of BJP candidates out for C'garh, MP

ANURAAG SINGH & EJAZ KAISER @Bhopal/Raipur

IN A first, the BJP on Thursday released its first list of 39 candidates, including four women, for Madhya Pradesh and 21 candidates, including five women, for Chhattisgarh before the assembly polls due later this year.

The BJP's first list has come at least a couple of months before the announcement of poll dates by the Election Commission of India for these states.

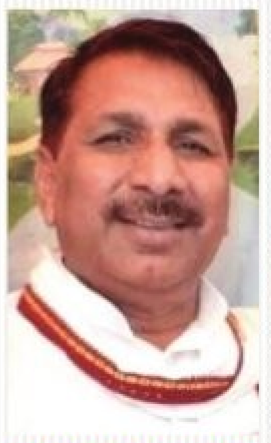
In Madhya Pradesh, the saffron party released the list for the 39 seats (all were lost in 2018 assembly polls) just a day after the meeting of its central election committee in Delhi, which was attended among others by PM Narendra Modi.

The list came around a month-and-a-half before the model code of conduct is enforced.

Party insiders in Bhopal believe that by declaring the candidates on the 39 seats, the party has tried to give the candidates ample time to prepare for the poll battle. This exercise is also being seen as an experiment of sorts to gauge the discontent caused by the declaration of candidates on those seats, which are being counted among the most challenging 100-odd seats out of the total 230 assembly seats.

The 39 candidates declared on Thursday, include at least 11 new faces, 21 ex-MLAs and seven candidates, who in the past had lost Vidhan Sabha polls from the same seats they have been fielded now.

MADHYA PRADESH



Adal Singh Kansana
(Sumawali seat)

A four-time former BSP and Congress MLA from Sumawali, he was among the 22 Congress MLAs who pulled down the Kamal Nath govt in 2020. He was later a minister in Shivraj Singh Chouhan govt, but resigned a few months later, losing the bypoll as BJP candidate from the seat in Nov 2020

Alok Sharma
(Bhopal Uttar seat)

The former Bhopal mayor, Sharma is considered close to Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan. He has been fielded from Bhopal North seat, where he had lost as BJP candidate to veteran sitting Congress MLA and ex-minister Arif Aqeel in 2008 by just 4,000-odd votes

Dhruv Narayan Singh
(Bhopal Madhya seat)

Son of former MP CM Govind Narayan Singh, he was elected as BJP MLA from Bhopal-Madhya seat in 2008. But with his name figuring in the 2011 RTI activist Shehla Masood murder case (CBI gave him clean chit later), he was denied a BJP ticket from the same seat in 2013 and 2018

CHHATTISGARH

Vijay Baghel
(Patan seat)

BJP LS member from Durg constituency, he will contest from Patan seat against CM Bhupesh Baghel. The likely contest between the two Baghels is now dubbed as the clash between Chacha (Bhupesh) and Bhatija (Vijay). The two were pitted against each other in 2003, 2008 and 2013 as well

Ram Vichar Netam
(Ramanujganj seat)

A prominent tribal face in the state BJP and former home minister in Raman Singh cabinet (2008-13). He won Assembly elections in 2003 and 2008 but lost in 2013 from Ramanujganj seat. He is a Rajya Sabha member. In 2015 Amit Shah appointed him as a national secretary in his team

Lakhan Lal Dewangan
(Korba seat)

Former corporator and Mayor of Korba municipal corporation. He was elected as an MLA from Katghora seat in 2013 and was parliamentary secretary in Raman Singh govt. He is the only candidate among the 21 names, who has lost 2018 polls. He will against state minister Jai Singh Agrawal

The list includes six former ministers, including Adal Singh Kansana, Lalita Yadav, Anchal Sonkar, Nanabhau Mohod, Om Prakash Dhurve and Lal Singh Arya.

Out of the 39 seats, 21 seats are reserved for SC/STs. A maximum of 11 candidates are for the 66 seats strong Malwa-Nimar region, 12 for Mahakoshal region, six for Gwalior-Chambal, five for Bundelkhand, four for central MP and one for Vindhya region. While 13 candidates are tribals, eight belong to the SC category, 13 from OBC category and five from general category.

Just four in the first list, including ex-minister Lalita Yadav, former MLA Nirmala Bhuria, fresh face Priyanka Meena (wife of Indian Revenue Service officer) and Sarla Vijendra Rawat are women candidates.

Just one of the 22 former Congress MLAs (who had pulled down the BJP government in March 2020) Adal Singh Kansana's name figures in this list, while Jyotiaditya Scindia-loyalist ex-Congress MLA Ranveer Jatav has failed to get BJP ticket from Gohah-SC seat of Bhind district, which he had won in 2018 polls on Congress ticket.

In Chhattisgarh, the BJP declared its list of 21 candidates. With only 14 legislators in the 90-member House, the BJP's move is seen as tactical to gain advantage over the Congress.

The party has fielded Vijay Baghel, Durg Lok Sabha member, from the Patan seat, which is the home constituency of Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel. In the 2008 assembly elections, Vijay Baghel defeated Bhupesh Baghel by a margin of 7,842 votes.

Chhattisgarh is among the five states, along with adjoining Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Telangana and Mizoram, going to polls later this year.

Raje, loyalists kept out of two crucial panels for Raj polls

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE BJP central leadership has dealt a blow to Vasundhara Raje Scindia, as the former Rajasthan chief minister has been kept out of two crucial committees announced for the upcoming state election.

On Thursday, Rajasthan BJP state president CP Joshi announced the manifesto committee and the election management committee, but the names of Raje or any of her prominent supporters were absent from the list of members.

The omission has sparked speculation that the BJP high command has firmly decided to fight the election without Raje's involvement.

For Raje and her loyalists, who have had several shows of strength for the last two years and have been demanding that Raje be declared as the CM face, this is a big jolt.

In response to inquiries about Vasundhara Raje's role in the election, the state president said there are numerous senior leaders within the party who will actively campaign.

State party in-charge Arun Singh dodged the question when asked about Raje's role, saying that "she is a senior party leader and all senior leaders will campaign for the party". Party's state president CP Joshi and state in-charge Arun Singh announced that these committees have been announced as per the instructions of national president JP Nadda.

The BJP high command had recently entrusted Vasundhara Raje with the responsibility of national vice-president. Coming in an election year, it was seen as a signal that the high command intended to keep Raje away from Rajasthan. In a subsequent development, Raje undertook a two-day visit to Delhi, where she engaged in discussions with several key leaders.

The strained relationship between Raje and the party high command dates back to 2014. During the tenure of Home Minister Amit Shah as the national president of BJP and Raje as the chief minister, the two leaders often found themselves at odds. Following the BJP's defeat in Rajasthan in 2018, Raje has been noticeably absent from crucial party events.

The high command's intentions became clear when Rajendra Rathore was appointed the Leader of the Opposition when Gulab Chand Kataria assumed the governorship of Assam.

Art 370 hearing: Is court being asked to review government's wisdom, asks SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

JUDICIAL review must be confined to Constitutional violations, remarked the five-judge Supreme Court bench hearing petitions challenging the abrogation of Article 370 of the Constitution that granted special status to the state of Jammu and Kashmir.

The bench asked the petitioners whether the court was being invited to review the wisdom of the government's decision in abrogating the law.

"Are you inviting the court to review the wisdom of the government's decision on the abrogation of Article 370? Are you suggesting that judicial review should reassess the basis of the government's decision that it was not in the national interest to continue Article 370? Judicial review should be limited to a Constitutional violation. We have to interpret the Constitutional provision as it stands," said the bench.

These remarks were made as senior advocate Dushyant Dave pointed out BJP's 2019 manifesto regarding the repeal of Article 370. Dave said the parliamentary exercise was a colourable use of power conducted after the dissolution of the J&K Assembly. Critiquing the exercise of powers by the Governor, Dave said Article 370 had served its purpose and the abrogation should have been carried out by exercising constituent power with the concurrence of the J&K government and Constituent Assembly.

The bench referred to various orders modifying the Constitution in relation to J&K and said Article 370 continued to operate even after these changes were made. "If your argument is correct, where is the power to alter the Constitution at all? Are you suggesting that after the dissolution of the Constituent Assembly in 1957, there was no power to make any changes pertaining to J&K?" asked the CJI.

Umar Khalid's bail plea to be taken up today

The Supreme Court will hear former JNU student leader Umar Khalid's bail plea on Friday. Khalid, who has been accused of allegedly conspiring for the northeast Delhi riots in February 2020, was arrested by the Delhi police on September 13, 2020, who registered a case under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act and provisions under the IPC. His bail plea will be heard by a bench of Justices Aniruddha Bose and Bela M Trivedi. Khalid had approached SC against Delhi HC's order of rejecting his bail. Upholding lower court's order dated March 24, 2022, which rejected his bail, HC Justices Rajnish Bhatnagar and Siddharth Mridul had said that there appears to be a premeditated conspiracy that was engineered to escalate to confrontational chakka-jam and incitement to violence and culminate in riots on specific dates in Delhi. SC judge PK Mishra on August 9 had recused from considering his bail plea.

G20: UK earmarks £210 mn for health infra

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE British government has announced £210 million funding to partner with countries across Asia and Africa to tackle antimicrobial resistance (AMR) and the threat it poses, especially in UK. This announcement has come ahead of the G20 Health Ministers' meeting in Gandhinagar on Friday, which will be attended by British Secretary for State and Social Care, Steve Barclay.

AMR occurs when bacteria, viruses, fungi and parasites mutate over time and no longer respond to medicines, making infections harder to treat and increase the risk of disease spread, severe illness and death. As a result of drug resistance, antibiotics and other antimicrobial medicines become ineffective and infections become increasingly difficult or impossible to treat.

"Antimicrobial resistance is a silent killer, which poses a significant threat to people's health around the world and in the UK. It will be an important topic here at the G20 in India. It is vital that it is stopped in its tracks and this record funding will allow countries most at risk to tackle it and prevent it from taking more lives across the world, ultimately making us safer at home,'' said Barclay, adding that it also builds on the work the government is doing to incentivise drug companies to develop new antibiotics — a model that some G20 countries are looking to implement.

Statistics reveal that nearly 1.27 million people around the world die each year due to AMR where one in five of those deaths are in children under five years of age. In 2019, AMR was found to have caused between 7,000 and 35,000 deaths in the UK alone.

The British government's £210 million funding will include setting up of laboratories, disease surveillance systems and a bigger global workforce.

The investment will deliver the second phase of the UK-India Fleming Fund partnership alongside India's Ministry of Health and Family Welfare. Worth up to £3 million, it will accelerate collaboration on AMR surveillance across One Health sectors and help both countries to deliver on their 2030 roadmap.

The investment will also strengthen the global health workforce by supporting 20,000 training sessions for laboratory staff, pharmacists and hospital staff, and over 200 Fleming Fund scholarships to boost expertise in microbiology, AMR policy and One Health.

■ Gujarat MLA & MP in ugly spat over a martyr's day event ■ In MP, Shah will present Report Card of over 18 years of BJP

Rift wide open as BJP MLA threatens MP on camera

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

IN the absence of any worthwhile political adversary in Gujarat, the BJP is facing an inward discomfort whose effect is beginning to show with each passing day. First came the "leaflet war" that targeted the state party chief CR Patil in an episode that is yet to unfold fully.

In the current episode, a celebrity MLA from Jamnagar has dared the party MP in an on-camera verbal spat.

Rivaba, a BJP MLA from Jamnagar North Assembly constituency and the wife of cricketer Ravindra Jadeja, had an argument with Jamnagar Mayor Binaben Kothari and the party's Lok Sabha MP Poonamben Maadam who did not take her footwear off during a function to honour the country's martyrs.

The MLA was heard telling the MP to stay within her limits when reminded by Maadam that the MLA should show some manners. "This is a fire stoked by you," Rivaba said as she took on the Mayor to stay "within her limits." The video of the episode is out.

In the purported video, MLA Rivaba Jadeja is heard telling the MP, "Keep calm and don't be smart, you're behind it. This is a fire stoked by you and you are now trying to douse it. In elections, I saw many powerful people like you."

When the mayor asked Rivaba to talk to her with manners, Rivaba told her to stay "within her limits"

After the incident, Rivaba addressed the media about the incident. "Madaam wore her shoes when she paid tributes to the martyrs and also during the wreathe-laying ceremony," said Rivaba. "Later, I removed my shoes when I went to present garlands to the martyrs' memorial.

"In a while, the MP loudly said that even the Prime Minister and President do not remove their shoes on such occasions, but foolish individuals who do not understand anything become overly smart and remove their shoes," said Rivaba.

"So I had to speak up," Rivaba told the media. Responding to the spat, state BJP chief CR Patil said: "I am getting the information," while Jamnagar Mayor Bina Kothari said, "I have nothing to say." Elsewhere in Gujarat, BJP leaders have been involved in five such incidents in a month.

Keep calm and don't be smart, you're behind it. This is a fire stoked by you and you are now trying to douse it. In elections, I saw many powerful people like you

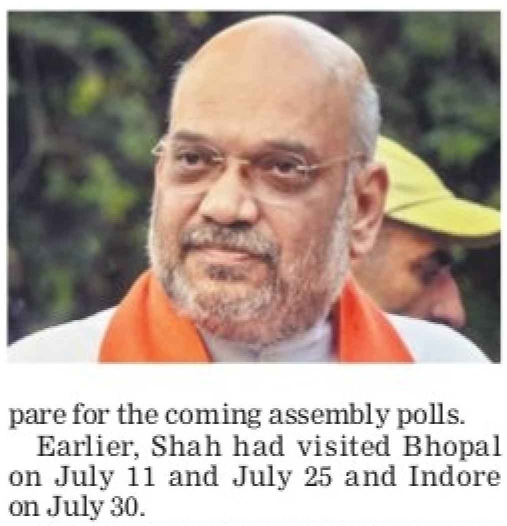
Shah to visit poll-bound MP, his 4th one in 40 days

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal



HOME minister Amit Shah will make his fourth visit to assembly poll-bound Madhya Pradesh in less than 40 days, on August 20.

Shah will arrive in Bhopal on August 20, where as part of Garib Kalyan Mahabhiyan, he will present the detailed Report Card of over 18 years of BJP rule in the state, out of which for more than 16 years, the government has been headed by current CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan.

Shah will subsequently travel to Gwalior, where will grace the expanded state BJP working committee's meeting. Detailing about Shah's August 20 visit to Bhopal and Gwalior, the MP BJP chief VD Sharma said, Shah will present in Bhopal the Garib Kalyan (poor sections welfare) centric Report Card of over 18 years of BJP rule in the state.

He will subsequently travel to Gwalior to grace the party's expanded state executive/working committee meeting at the Atal Bihari Vajpayee Auditorium. Importantly, Gwalior is the home district of three powerful BJP leaders, including union minister Narendra Singh Tomar and Jyotiraditya Scindia, besides MP home minister Narottam Mishra.

This would be Shah's fourth visit to the poll bound BJP ruled state in less than 40 days, to guide the party prepare for the coming assembly polls.

Earlier, Shah had visited Bhopal on July 11 and July 25 and Indore on July 30.

Shah's visit to Gwalior assumes particular significance, as the BJP's internal surveys are believed to have painted a bleak picture for the party's prospects in the 34 assembly seats-strong Gwalior-Chambal region.

In the 2018 assembly polls, out of the 34 assembly seats, while Congress had nearly swept the polls, winning 26 seats, BJP was far behind with just 7 seats and BSP won one seat.

Though the Gwalior-Chambal region is home to four senior BJP leaders, including union ministers Narendra Singh Tomar and Jyotiraditya Scindia, besides state BJP chief VD Sharma and state home minister Narottam Mishra, the party had suffered major jolt in the same region during last year's civic polls.

Home Minsiter Amit Shah will present the Garib Kalyan Report Card of over 18 years of BJP rule, of which Shivraj Singh Chouhan was at the helm for 16 years, in Bhopal on August 20

Himachal minister's public tiff with son

The Himachal agriculture minister Chander Kumar had a public face-off with his son, former MLA Neeraj Bharti, as he sought disciplinary action against Dharamsala MLA Sudhir Sharma and Sujanpur MLA Rajendra Rana. They had openly vented their anger against the state on social media platforms. He advised both the MLAs to be patient. His son Bharti took a jibe at his father and said that instead of commenting on party legislators, he should fulfill the aspirations of the people of Kangra. The upset minister got back at his son and pulled him up for his remarks.

Only gangsters safe in Punjab, says Jakhar

Punjab BJP president Sunil Jakhar equated the current situation in Punjab and the rise of gangsters to the iconic dialogue of famous Bollywood movie 'Sholay' during his visit to Ludhiana. He said that only gangsters feel safe in the state, with the crime going up at an unprecedented rate. Talking to the media, Jakhar said that only gangsters seem to be safe in Punjab as after 8 PM, people were scared to step out of their houses. Hitting out at CM Bhagwant Mann, Jakhar said, "He still behaves like an artist and is only interested in getting his photographs clicked."

'Women-friendly' liquor shop under fire

A 'women-friendly' liquor store near Kishanpura Chowk in Jalandhar, which was the first in Punjab, has drawn the ire of leaders of various political parties and locals. The concept was taken from Gurugram in Haryana and Madhya Pradesh. "Opening of a shop with such kind of a tagline has sent across such a wrong message. This government seems to be bent on ruining the families of Punjab," said state BJP media in-charge Janardhan Sharma. Punjab Congress president Amarinder S Raja Warring tweeted, "Instead of taking out men from the trap of addiction, the move shows that they have even started luring women into it."

UGC unhappy, pulls up JU on ragging death

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

UNHAPPY with the Jadavpur University's report on the alleged ragging that led to first-year student Swapnodeep Kundu's death and action taken on the issue, the University Grants Commission (UGC) on Wednesday wrote to the institution asking to submit the compliances to its 12 queries.

The UGC found the University's report "very generic" in nature which mentioned "reactive approaches" adopted in the matter rather than "proactive measures" taken to curb the menace. The statutory body of the central government for higher education asked the university authorities to submit the compliance on 12 queries for the current year within 24 hours and for the last five years within 10 days.

The UGC's anti-ragging cell on Monday, following the tragedy on August 10 at the hostel of the institution, sought a report from the university authorities on its finding on Swapnodeep's death for which nine persons, were arrested.

Expressing its sheer unhappiness with the university's reply, the UGC wrote back saying, "The report submitted to UGC was examined and it was found to be very generic in nature."

3 MLAs blackmailed CM to get portfolios, says Shinde loyalist

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AN MLA from Maharashtra chief minister Eknath Shinde-led Shiv Sena Bharat Gogawale has alleged that three party MLAs blackmailed the CM to get the ministerial berths, and that he as a "genuine contender" was ignored.

Gogwale revealed that when the ministerial allocation took place, his name was in the first list. "One Sena MLA told the CM that if he is not inducted as a minister, his wife will commit suicide. The CM told me that he'd have to save the woman's life," Gogawale said.

He said another Shiv Sena MLA whose name was not in the minister list threatened the CM that if was denied the cabinet ministry, his local region BJP leader and Union minister Narayan Rane will finish him politically.

"Then, this MLA bagged the minister…so my name was put on the waiting list." The third MLA threatened Shinde that if he was not made the minister, he would resign as MLA and pull out from the government.

"The CM had little option but to accommodate these disgruntled MLAs who blackmailed the CM to get ministerial berths," Gogawale added.

He added, his name is still on the waiting list. "When Ajit Pawar and his MLA were inducted as ministers, that time also, I was told that I would take the oath with Ajit Pawar. I waited for it, but no one asked me to take the oath."

He said each time, there was a talk of cabinet expansion, our hope rise, but in the end we don't get anything.

"People who do the blackmail politics get the posts and positions," said Gogawale.

Meanwhile, Shinde has invited his government ministers, top leaders and consulate officers for a dinner at the Taj in Bandra on Thursday.

"The dinner diplomacy by Shinde is to pacify the people who have been troubling him for a ministerial berth and also an attempt to garner the support of the MLAs and ministers so that he can remain in the chair," said a political analyst.

Went to Delhi to pay respect to Vajpayee: Nitish

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

BIHAR CM Nitish Kumar, upon his return to Patna from Delhi on Thursday, clarified that the purpose of his visit to national capital was personal and there was no meeting with any leader of Opposition parties.

"I had gone to Delhi to pay tribute to former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee on his death anniversary and get an eye check-up. Meeting with any leader of Opposition parties was not scheduled during this trip," he said.

He said that the senior leaders of Opposition parties would meet in Mumbai and discuss further course of action. The meeting is scheduled for August 31 and September 1.

"We have telephonic conversation with those leaders when required," he added. He said ever since Opposition INDIA bloc came into existence, they (read BJP) are very upset.

They have started meeting with alliance partners, which they had stopped after demise of Atal Bihari Vajpayee.

Nitish, who has played a pivotal role in uniting non-BJP parties, said that people of the country have made up their mind to remove BJP from power in the 2024 Lok Sabha election.

Poll position: Congress rejigs UP team, names Ajai Rai as party chief

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

AHEAD of 2024 Lok Sabha election, Congress on Thursday appointed Ajai Rai as the party chief in Uttar Pradesh, replacing Brijlal Khabri, a Dalit face. Rai had started his political career with BJP and won his first three assembly elections as a BJP candidate from Kolsala assembly seat in Varanasi Parliamentary seat, from 1996 to 2007.

In 2009, he contested the by-poll on the same seat as an independent and won for the fourth time. Rai joined the Congress in 2012 and won Pindra Assembly segment of Varanasi on Congress ticket to become an MLA for the fifth time. Then senior Congress leader Digvijay Singh was party's UP-incharge and he had played a major role in ensuring Ajai Rai's entry into the organisation. However, he has not won any election after 2012.

He failed to win the same assembly seat for the Congress 2017 and 2022 in the saffron resurgence. However, he has been holding prominent positions in the party organisation for a long time. Recently, Rai was appointed the regional president of Prayagraj region with the responsibility of 12 eastern UP districts.

Rai is the younger brother of slain coal contractor Awdhesh Rai who was murdered by Mukhtar Ansari gang in 1994. In June, this year, Ansari was awarded life sentence for his connection in Awdhesh Rai killing.

Ajai Rai is also registered as a history sheeter in Chetganj police station of Varanasi. According to experts, the Congress central leadership has put the stake on Ajai Rai for his dedication and diligence with which he works at the ground level.

He had taken on PM Modi twice in 2014 and 2019 Lok Sabha election in Varanasi but lost. Rai had contested 2009 Lok Sabha polls on SP ticket against BJP's Murli Manohar Joshi from Varanasi, but was third.

Row over Bihar asking teachers to sell used midday meal sacks to get funds

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

TEACHERS in government schools in Bihar have been asked to sell empty gunny bags at ₹20 per piece and deposit the money in district treasuries or concerned bank accounts.

State education department, in a letter issued to all district programme officers (DPOs) on August 14, has asked them to ensure that empty gunny bags were sold at ₹20 per piece and money collected from them deposited in respective government treasuries and bank accounts concerned.

In turn, DPOs directed the headmasters of all schools under their jurisdiction to comply with the order on a priority basis or be prepared to face disciplinary action. The headmasters of schools subsequently entrusted the responsibility to their subordinate teachers.

In Bihar, food grains packed in gunny bags are supplied to government schools for midday meal. The sacks have piled up at schools after the use of grains and subsequently sold in the market. However, recent directive has come as a bolt from the blue for the teachers and their heads.

"Not only the rate of gunny bags has been doubled compared to previous year's rate but also asked to comply with the directive on a priority basis. Are we meant for these things?," said a visibly upset school teacher in Samastipur district.

The letter to sell empty gunny bags was issued to the DPOs on August 14, 2023 by director, midday meal, Mitilesh Mishra. The rate of empty gunny bag was last revised in 2016. As per the revised rate each empty bag was to be sold for ₹10.

A senior official of state education department said that in most of the schools midday meal is prepared at school level and served to the students by the cook. But in some districts like Vaishali, midday meal is supplied to all schools by an NGO. According to officials of state education department, midday meal is served to students studying in 70,332 primary and middle schools per day across the state.

The education department has adopted a three-tier mechanism to check the quality of food served to students. The menu of the food has also changed. The teachers have been asked to taste the food before being served to students as a precautionary measure.

The education department has hogged the limelight ever since a senior IAS K K Pathak assumed charge as additional chief secretary in education department where he put up directives to improve the condition.

However, recent directive has come as a bolt from the blue for the teachers and their heads. The letter to sell empty gunny bags was issued to the DPOs on August 14, 2023.

Prez Xi calls for patience as govt grapples with economic crisis

BEIJING

CHINESE leader Xi Jinping has called for patience in a speech released as the ruling Communist Party tries to reverse a deepening economic slump and said Western countries are "increasingly in trouble" because of their materialism and "spiritual poverty."

Xi's speech was published by Qiushi, the party's top theoretical journal, hours after data on Tuesday showed consumer and factory activity weakened further in July despite official promises to support struggling entrepreneurs.

The government skipped giving an update on a politically sensitive spike in unemployment among young people.

Xi called for China to "build a socialist ideology with strong cohesion" and to focus on long-term goals of improving education, health care and food supplies for China's 1.4 billion people instead of only pursuing short-term material wealth.

"We must maintain historic patience and insist on making steady, step-by-step progress," Xi said in the speech. Qiushi said it was delivered in February in the southwestern city of Chongqing. It is common for Qiushi journal to publish speeches months after they are delivered.

Xi stressed "common prosperity," a 1950s party slogan he has revived. He called for narrowing China's yawning wealth gap between a tiny elite and the poor majority and to "regulate the healthy development of capital" but announced no new initiatives. "Common prosperity for all people" is an "essential feature of Chinese-style modernisation and distinguishes it from Western modernisation," Xi said. AP

Over 60 Senegal migrants feared dead on voyage

Spanish fishing vessel rescued 38 people, including four kids aged between 12 to 16

DAKAR

MORE than 60 migrants are feared dead after a Spanish fishing vessel rescued a boat off the Atlantic archipelago of Cape Verde that originally had more than 100 people aboard, authorities and migrant advocates said on Thursday.

Seven bodies were found on the boat and an estimated 56 people are missing at sea and presumed dead, said International Organization for Migration (IOM) spokesperson Safa Msehli. As per Senegal's foreign affairs ministry, 38 people were rescued earlier in the week near Cape Verde, about 620 kilometres off the coast of West Africa. The Spanish migration advocacy group Walking Borders said the vessel was a large fishing boat, called a pirogue, which had left Senegal on July 10. Families in Fass Boye, a seaside town 145 kilometres north of the capital, Dakar, reached out to Walking Borders on July 20 after 10 days without hearing from loved ones on the boat, group founder Helena Maleno Garzón said.

Cheikh Awa Boye, president of the local fishing association, said survivors called home from Cape Verde after the rescue. Boye said two of his nephews are among those missing.

Spain's Maritime Rescue Service confirmed that a Spanish fishing boat named the Zillarri rescued 38 people, included four kids aged 12 to 16, and recovered seven bodies from a Senegalese pirogue on August 14 after spotting it.

An official of the tropical tuna fishing firm PEVASA, which operates Zillarri, said the survivors were asking for help and were in a "bad state." Nearly 1,000 migrants died while trying to reach Spain by sea in the first six months of 2023, Walking Borders says. Worsening youth unemployment, political unrest, violence by armed groups and climate change push migrants across West Africa to risk their lives on overcrowded boats. Nearly 10,000 people have reached Canary Islands by sea from the northwest coast of Africa so far this year, accordig to the Spanish Interior Ministry figures. AP

World's most dangerous route: W Africa to Spain

The route from West Africa to Spain is one of the world's most dangerous, yet the number of migrants leaving from Senegal has surged over the past year. The boats try to reach Spain's Canary Islands, an archipelago off the northwest coast of Africa that has been used as a steppingstone to continental Europe. On August 7, the Moroccan navy recovered the bodies of five Senegalese migrants and rescued 189 others after their boat capsized off the coast of Western Sahara.

CANADA, SPAIN BEAR BRUNT OF WILDFIRE

OTTAWA/BARCELONA

THOUSANDS ordered to flee wildfires advancing on one of the largest cities in Canada's far north crammed into a local airport on Thursday to board emergency evacuation flights, as convoys snaked south to safety on the only open highway. The order late Wednesday to evacuate Yellowknife in the Northwest Territories marked the latest chapter of a terrible summer for wildfires in Canada, with people forced to leave their homes.

As of early Thursday, more than 1,000 wildfires were burning, including about 230 in the Northwest Territories. More than 20,000 residents of Yellowknife, the regional capital, have been given until noon Friday to leave by road or on commercial and military flights.

Yellowknife Mayor Rebecca Alty warned drivers that the flames were skirting the edges of highways and they would encounter limited visibility as thick smoke turned the sky orange.

Flights to nearby Alberta province were scheduled to depart Yellowknife starting at 1.00 pm on Thursday.

"Kilometres of vehicles started leaving yesterday, and there were folks flying out yesterday and today," she said. A wildfire was within 16 km of Yellowknife on Thursday.

Meanwhile, an out-of-control wildfire on the Spanish Canary island of Tenerife has burned acres and affected 8,000 people who are either evacuated or confined.

Regional President Fernando Clavijo said some 250 firefighters and members of the Spanish army are tackling the blaze, located in the north of the island. Clavijo said fire had a 30-km-long perimetre.

The wildfire is threatening six municipalities. Some 7,600 residents in the area have either been evacuated or ordered to stay indoors on Thursday due to hazardous air quality. Clavijo said firefighters were working day and night but fire remained "out of control."

Russia fines Google for videos on Ukraine war

Moscow: A Russian court on Thursday imposed $32,000 fine on Google for failing to delete allegedly false information about the conflict in Ukraine. US approves $3.5 bn defence deal between Israel-Germany

JERUSALEM

ISRAEL'S Defence Ministry said on Thursday it has secured its largest-ever defence deal selling a sophisticated missile defence system to Germany for $3.5 billion after the US approved the deal.

Although Israel has long had close economic and military links with western European countries, the deal with Germany could draw the attention of Russia. Germany will buy the advanced defence system, coined Arrow 3, which is designed to intercept long-range ballistic missiles. Israel sought approval for the deal from the US State Department because the system was jointly developed by the two countries.

"The American approval marks a momentous milestone in the strategic relationship between Israel and the United States," Israeli defence official Daniel Gold said. "The joint programme with the US on the advanced Arrow 3 defence system strengthens our national defence," adding it will extend Germany's defence capability.

Uzi Rubin, the former director of Israel's missile defence programme, said Arrow 3 could be moved to act as a long-range ballistic missile shield for other European countries. He said it was the best defence available against the threat of ballistic missiles but does not protect against cruise missiles or others flying at lower altitudes. While Israel has turned down requests to provide Ukraine with weapons, it has sent humanitarian aid. AP

Govt bans bulk selling of SIM cards

Now, bulk SIMs will be issued to only companies or organisations with proper verification

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

TO stop growing menace of cyber fraud in the country, the government on Thursday discontinued selling of bulk SIM cards by dealers, and also proposed a fine of ₹10 lakh on SIM dealers found doing so.

The new rules also mandate a dealer to register themselves, go through police verification and biometric process. The rule will come into effect from 1 October 2023, and the dealers will be given six months time to register and complete the process.

"During our observation in the past few months, we came across a big role of SIM card dealers in the country. They are not doing proper verification, and their prime focus is to sell connections anyhow. Now, the dealers will have to go through police and biometric verifications. Whosoever sells SIMs on fraudulent documents will be held responsible," said the telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw.

The minister believes in the next six months to one year, there will be a significant drop in the number of fraudulent cases in the country, after all these things come into place. As per the proposed rule, the Telecom Service Providers (TSPs) will only issue SIMs to the registered dealers, and in case of any foul play the telcos can fine ₹10 lakh on them.

While explaining about the steps already undertaken by the government, the minister said that with the launch of Sanchar Sarthi portal in May 2023, the numbers of fraud cases have gone down. He said around 50 lakh connections were deactivated, 67,000 SIM dealers were blacklisted, 66,000 WhatApps accounts were blocked and 8 lakh payment wallets accounts were deactivated since May 2023. Not only this, there are 300 FIRs registered in these cases.

"The fraudsters are already feeling the pressure now," said the minister.

The Department of Telecommunications (DoT) has also discontinued the provision of bulk connections and instead, there will be a new concept of business connection.

Now, bulk SIMs will be issued to only companies or organizations with a proper verification.

It means a person can only get nine SIMs, not bulk SIMs as per earlier practice. The minister said 20% of the people getting bulk SIMs issued were using them for fraudulent purposes.

Vaishnaw informed that apart from KYC details of an organization, KYC of persons taking handover of SIM will also be done to issue bulk SIMs for organizations.

He also assured that dealers will get proper transition time to follow all these verification processes.

"These new reforms are purely focused on user protection and reducing cyber fraud in the country," said the minister.

Rupee plunges to record low of 83.15 against US dollar

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

THE rupee plunged to its lowest closing level of 83.15 against the US dollar on Thursday compared to close of 82.96, mainly hit by global factors such as rise in treasury yields in US and weakness in global equities.

The local currency opened at 83 on Thursday morning and touched a low of 83.16 per dollar. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) stepped in the market to arrest the slide and sold dollars via public sector banks, which helped the local currency to stabilise. RBI's forex reserves have risen over $600 billion, which provides the central bank enough room to defend the local currency.

"We suspect Reserve Bank of India may have intervened and sold dollars. However, over the near term, bias remains upward and we could dollar-rupee breaching 83.24, previous all time highs," Anindya Banerjee, VP - Currency Derivatives & Interest Rate Derivatives at Kotak Securities

The rupee had touched its life-time low of 83.29 on October 20, last year during intraday trade. The rupee has been under pressure since Tuesday and traders expected a weak opening on Thursday. The domestic currency market was closed on Tuesday and Wednesday for a public holiday.

"The dollar gained on hawkish FOMC minutes which showed all members of the rate-setting committee support higher interest rates to fight inflation. Upbeat housing, industrial production, and capacity utilisation rate data from the US also supported Dollar," said Anuj Choudhary - Research Analyst at Sharekhan by BNP Paribas. US Treasury yields rose after meeting minutes from the Federal Reserve stated that most policymakers feel that inflation risks could require further interest rate hikes.

The dollar index also gained following the release of the minutes. The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, rose 0.05% to 103.48. Better than expected data in US relating to Producer Price Index (PPI), retail sales, and industrial production have raised expectations of more rate hikes by the US central bank. Analysts expect rupee under pressure in near term as US dollar is likely to get stronger in coming weeks.

"We expect rupee to trade with a negative bias on risk aversion in global markets and a strong US dollar.

RBI steps in market to arrest slide in rupee

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) stepped in the market to arrest the slide and sold dollars via public sector banks, which helped the local currency to stabilise. RBI's forex reserves have risen over $600 billion, which provides the central bank enough room to defend the local currency. The local currency opened at 83 on Thursday morning and touched a low of 83.16 per dollar

ENERGY

ONGC to invest ₹1L cr in low carbon energy

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE-OWNED Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) will invest ₹1 lakh crore in low-carbon energy opportunities, including renewables and green hydrogen by the end of this decade, the company said.

The country's largest crude oil and natural gas producer said it has detailed a road map to scale up its low-carbon energy portfolio significantly.

The company said it has adopted various de-carbonisation levers, resulting in significant emission reductions over years.

"ONGC has aligned itself with India's ambitious goals and is wholeheartedly contributing to the nation's aim to curtail carbon emissions by 1 billion tonne and simultaneously reduce carbon intensity by 45% by 2030," the company said in a statement. "ONGC plans to significantly increase its spending on green initiatives to reduce its carbon footprint as a broader effort to achieve net-zero for Scope-1 and Scope-2 emissions by 2038," it said. The company is in an advanced stage of crafting collaborations with leading players in the energy space on various low-carbon energy opportunities including renewables, green hydrogen, green ammonia and other derivatives of green hydrogen.

It is also actively exploring collaborations with leading players to leverage various low-carbon energy opportunities including renewables, green hydrogen, green ammonia and other derivatives of green hydrogen.

Domestic mkt under pressure as rate hike fear looms

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market closed in the red on Thursday as the US Federal Reserve minutes suggested one more rate hike may be necessary in the current cycle to curb inflation and Chinese macroeconomic data showed that the world's second-largest economy is slowing faster than forecasts.

The 30-share BSE index Sensex ended at 65,151.02 down 388.40 points or down 0.59% while the Nifty also closed at 19,365.25 level, down 99.75 points or 0.51%.

"Profit taking came to the fore amid weak global cues, as rising US bond yields and fall in the currency levels weighed on the equity market sentiment. Investors are also worried about further rate hikes coupled with deflation and slowing demand in China, which has been prompting investors to flee equity markets amid choppy trends," said Shrikant Chouhan, Head of Research (Retail), Kotak Securities.

The US Federal Reserve's July minutes noted that as inflation remained well above the Committee's longer-run goal and the labor market remaining tight, most participants continued to see significant upside risks to inflation, which could require "further tightening of monetary policy". In India, the RBI is also expected to turn more hawkish following a sharp jump in India's July retail inflation.

Amid these developments, government bond yields in the US and India are on the rise. Indian government bond yields surged on Thursday with the benchmark 7.26% 2033 bond yield ending at 7.2487%, its highest since April 5. To note, whenever bond yields go up the opportunity cost of investing in equities goes up and therefore equities become less attractive.

"The mounting influence of weak global cues hindered the domestic market's ability to recoup, resulting in sustained selling pressure," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services. He added that the escalation of US bond yields is expected to limit the influx of foreign investments into the Indian market, further impacting market dynamics.

Foreign portfolio investors pulled out over Rs 1,500 crore (net) from the Indian equity market on Thursday as rupee closed an all-time low of 83.10 (provisional) against the dollar. In the Sensex pack, ITC, Power Grid, L&T, Reliance Industries, Nestle, and Kotak Bank fell most on Thursday, while Titan, SBI, Bajaj Finserv, Axis Bank, and Sun Pharma closed with gains.

Inflation containment measures on track; No plans to cut taxes on fuel: Govt official

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

INFLATION containment measures are on track and the government is undertaking all the steps to moderate food inflation, a top government official said.

Refuting the media reports saying that the Centre is planning a ₹1 trillion package to arrest soaring prices, the official said vegetable prices will cool down going forward and it is just a temporary seasonal phase. The official further denied the reports claiming that the Centre is planning to lower taxes on fuel, ease import tariffs on cooking oil and wheat.

According to the reports, the centre is considering to reallocate Rs 1 trillion from the budgets of different ministries to cool food and fuel prices.

"We have already taken steps to cool food prices. We restricted export of wheat and rice. Meanwhile, for vegetables, pulses and oil seeds too, we are taking action," a top official said. The retail inflation hit a 15-month high at 7.44% in July from 4.87% in June on high food prices. It was the first time since February 2023 that the inflation surpassed the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) upper band of 6%. According to the National Statistical Office (NSO), the food inflation rate surged massively to 11.51% in July from 4.49% in the previous month, driven by steep prices of vegetables and tomatoes (37%), pulses (13.3%) and cereals (13%).

"The centre is trying to tame inflation by engaging in open market sale of rice and wheat. We are expecting food prices to come down on negative wholesale price-based index inflation," the official stated. The WPI in July came in at -1.36%. This was the fourth time in a row that it was negative.

RBI portal for unclaimed deposits

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank of India on Thursday launched a centralised web portal UDGAM (Unclaimed Deposits - Gateway to Access information) to help people search and claim unclaimed deposits.

The portal, launched by RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das, has been developed to help the public to make it easier for them to search their unclaimed deposits across banks in one place. Presently unclaimed deposits from seven banks -- State Bank of India, Punjab National Bank, Central Bank of India, Dhanlaxmi Bank, South Indian Bank, DBS Bank India and Citibank-- are available on the portal.

Inflation expected to average above 6% in second quarter: RBI

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

INDIAN economy is gathering momentum in the second quarter, though inflation would continue to average above the central bank's comfort zone of 6 %, said an article in the RBI's monthly bulletin released on Thursday.

The risk of stagflation, a period of weak growth and high inflation, remains low in India despite a sharp uptick in prices, noted the bulletin.

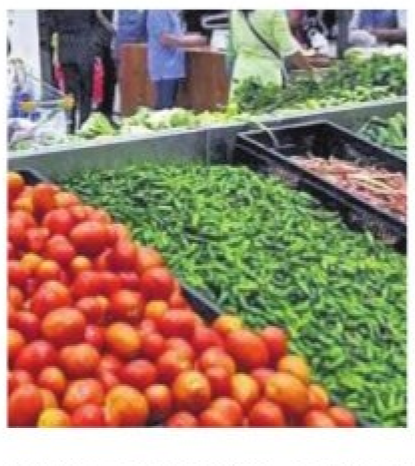
"The uptick in inflation in its June reading mutated in July, with the unprecedented shock to tomato prices spilling over to prices of other vegetables. While core inflation witnessed a moderation, headline inflation is expected to average well above 6 per cent in the second quarter," said the RBI's recent monthly bulletin.

The article has been authored by a team lead by Reserve Bank Deputy Governor Michael Debabrata Patra.

The consumer price index (CPI) based retail inflation shot up significantly to 7.44 per cent in July, from 4.87 per cent in the preceding month, mainly due to soaring prices of tomato, vegetables and other food items.

The article said that with industrial production and trade weakening, the global recovery is slowing after a robust first quarter performance.

"In this stressed global environment, the Indian economy is gathering momentum in the second quarter of 2023-24," it said. Domestic drivers such as private consumption and fixed investment are offsetting the drag from the contraction in exports, it added.



RBI's rate setting panel, Monetary Policy Committee (MPC), has retained its forecast of economic growth at 6.5% for 2023-24, noting that domestic economic activity is holding up well, supported by domestic demand in spite of the drag from weak external demand. It also revised upwards its projection of inflation taking into account the recent price surges in the food category of the CPI. The main revisions relate to the projections for the second and third quarters, with the forecast for the fourth quarter unchanged. As per the article, high frequency food price data for August so far (up to 14th) show that prices of cereals and pulses continued to increase in August.

Edible oil prices continued to fall in July-August. Tomato prices, on average, registered a further increase in August so far, though more recent data indicate some pullback in prices.

NCLT issues notice to Go First as settlement talks with Delhivery fails

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) on Thursday issued notice to Go First after settlement talks failed between the grounded airline and logistics company Delhivery.

The tribunal has now sought a response from the Resolution Professional (RP) of Go First in two weeks. The case is likely to be heard on September 15.

The RP of Go First, which is currently going through Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP), on July 24 had informed the NCLT that it is settling its dispute with the logistics company.

Delhivery had earlier moved NCLT alleging that the initiation of CIRP was fraudulent and malicious.

It had said the airline received over ₹1.58 crore from the logistics company for rendering domestic cargo consignment services. The money was paid as per the terms of an agreement that both companies entered into in 2020 and was last renewed in August 2022.

According to Delhivery, Go First received Rs 57 lakh on May 2, the day it filed for insolvency, despite being aware that it may not be able to render the services even in the future as Go First does not have an operable fleet in its own admission.

The NCLT on Thursday also issued notice to an application by aircraft lessor DAE (SY 22) 13 Ireland Designated Activity Company to be exempted from the moratorium.

Go First, which has not flown since May 3, is facing multiple challenges to restart operations.

The airline owes a little over ₹6,500 crore to financial creditors while its total liability stood at Rs 11,463 crore, including dues to banks, financial institutions, vendors, and aircraft lessors.

Two-thirds of cos pay for employees' upskilling

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

AMID lay-offs and hiring freeze in the technology sector, Indian tech companies are increasingly relying on upskilling existing employees to bridge their talent gaps, finds the 2023 Hiring Survey conducted by edtech start-up Scaler.

The survey reached out to over 100 start-ups, product multinationals, information technology services and Global Capability Centers (GCC), and revealed that nearly two-thirds of the respondents were paying for their employees' upskilling programs to overcome their skill gap challenge.

Over seven out of 10 survey respondents believe employee referrals to be the most reliable source for fresh hires.

The report adds that recruiters across the board (39.3%) said finding the right talent for the right job continues to be their biggest challenge, a trend that needs to be fixed to ensure the continued growth of the $245 billion Indian tech sector.

While primary job qualification (like coding skills) and a college degree are given due weightage, employers are keen on hiring people with a problem-solving mindset. Abhimanyu Saxena, co-founder of Scaler and InterviewBit, said, "Shortage of the right skills for the right job is definitely a growing concern for the tech sector. This has been a challenge for a long while now. But employers are looking at upskilling or quiet hiring as the primary means to bridge their internal skills gaps, and a majority of them are willing to pick the tab for the same."

About 38.3% believe the shortage of skills to be the most formidable challenge in the tech sector. The survey also said that 72.02% said Data Science/Algorithm is the skill they are looking for the most.

Saxena added that with employees' referrals reigning as the most preferred source for new talents, the prospects for building an industry community look both promising and bright.

AFI chief Sumariwalla elected World Athletics VP

Adille Sumariwalla on Thursday became a member of the powerful World Athletics Executive Board after he was elected as one of the four vice presidents, the highest post occupied by an Indian in the global track and field governing body. The 65-year-old has been the president of Athletics Federation of India (AFI) since 2012.

Pragg-matic and fearless from all quarters at the World Cup

VISHNU PRASAD @ Bengaluru

RAMESHBABU Praggnanandhaa is no stranger to astonishing feats. Seven years ago, he burst onto the scene as a 10-year-old, becoming the youngest International Master the world had ever seen. A couple of years later, he became the youngest Indian at the time to become a GM. At 13, none other than Viswanathan Anand called him the real deal. And now, he has become the first Indian after Anand to reach the semifinals of the FIDE World Cup.

It took some time and a lot of twists and turns, but Praggnanandhaa beat his best friend Arjun Erigaisi in a quarterfinal tiebreak that went to seven games. The two had taken their quarterfinal to tiebreak on Wednesday, after winning one apiece. On Thursday, after the first two games of 25 minutes and ten second increments ended in draws, Praggnanandhaa and Arjun traded wins in the next two sets of two games each. Astonishingly, Praggnanandhaa won the final Blitz game after losing 30 seconds of his total three minutes on the clock, due to arriving late at the board.

“I was in the restroom and I kind of forgot that I had to run for the game,” said the 18-year-old after the game. It is the same kind of nonchalance with which he has faced the pressures of fame and public expectations since he first captured public imagination.

R Praggnanandhaa

By virtue of his entry into the semifinal, where he will now face American GM Fabiano Caruana, Praggnanandhaa is virtually assured of an entry into the 2024 Candidates tournament that will decide the challenger to Ding Liren’s crown. This will make him just the second Indian after Anand to participate in the Candidates. It has been quite the journey for the kid who was once found sleeping in front of the chessboard while his opponent waited patiently for him to wake up.

It takes a village, as they say, to raise a child, and raising a chess prodigy is no different. As Praggnanandhaa shook hands with Arjun in Baku, the people behind his rise were celebrating at home. His family has had to sacrifice a lot to make sure he could fulfil his potential. His father A Rameshbabu, a bank employee, has physical limitations after a bout with polio at a young age. So, it was his mother Nagalakshmi, who accompanied him to tournaments all over the world, ever since a two-year-old Praggnanandhaa took to chess after watching his older sister Vaishali play it. “There was a lot of tension,” said Rameshbabu after the win. “But now, we are all very happy.”

Another man, who deserves all the credit for Praggnanandhaa’s rise is his coach RB Ramesh. It was at Ramesh’s Chess Gurukul that the future of Indian chess was moulded. “It is a fantastic achievement,” Ramesh told this newspaper. “Really happy with the way Indian chess players are putting up a challenge at the World Cup. Also extremely happy how the Indian youngsters are taking up the responsibility in putting out their hearts in these matches. Really happy the way Gukesh, Pragg, Vidit and Arjun, Nihal Sarin... everyone of them gave out everything in their matches,” said Ramesh.

For now, Praggnanandhaa gets a day’s rest before he takes on Caruana in the semifinals.

Transgender women cannot compete in women’s chess events

GENEVA: The world's top chess federation has ruled that transgender women cannot compete in its official events for females until an assessment of gender change is made by its officials. The decision by Lausanne, Switzerland-based federation FIDE was published on Monday and has drawn criticism from advocacy groups and supporters of transgender rights.

REJUVENATED BUMRAH READY TO ROAR AGAIN

Making a comeback, the pacer aims to enjoy the game and not have unrealistic goals

GOMESH S @ Chennai

THE ball is firmly gripped in the left-hand as the pacer starts speed-walking from the start of his run-up. A couple of seconds in, he would look at the ball and find the seam to hold it with his bowling arm. The eyes then go up looking straight at his target, the batter. The speed-walking continues for a few more steps before he hops and starts sprinting. Blink twice and the pacer would have delivered a rocket yorker or an accurate bouncer. The batter looks frazzled.

For the better part of the last decade, this has been a familiar, and a rather cherished sight in Indian cricket. And the pacer tormenting the batter was Jasprit Bumrah, until there was a small pause due to injury. Every time he ran in, there was anticipation of a wicket. When his name was on the team sheet, the team got confidence. Format didn’t matter, nor did the stakes of the match. But there was always a concern of injury with his action, which is rather peculiar. And it eventually came at a time when India probably needed him. For the first time in his career, he missed a global event — T20 World Cup last year.

Such was the impact of his absence that the team had to make multiple changes to find a combination that would deliver them wins with more regularity. However, India lost in the semifinal in 2022 and failed to win the World Test Championship this year. Before every series, his return would be the key talking point. It has been 11 months since he last walked out to play for India, and now Bumrah is finally back and will be leading the team in the three-match T20I series starting Friday. And he is thrilled to say the least. It’s been the longest he has been kept away from the 22 yards and cannot wait to get back. However, the biggest positive for India and him is that he seems to be the same bowler that he was 11 months ago. What little training footage that was shared by the BCCI is a reflection of it. He delivers a sharp bouncer at Ruturaj Gaikwad. In the other clip, he steams in and launches an accurate yorker that Yashasvi Jaiswal barely manages to dig out. He is not holding back. Bumrah said as much. “I was bowling normally, I’m enjoying it,” he said in the pre-match press conference on Thursday. “I’ve done a lot of net sessions. When my rehab finished and I went home, I practiced with the Gujarat state team as well. I’ve had a lot of sessions and practice matches. It’s not like there are any restrictions or I’m holding back.”

As the captain for the series he answered questions with the same pragmatism and clarity as his bouncers and yorkers. For him the bigger goal is the upcoming ODI World Cup in India. “When you are facing an injury you are trying to solve that problem, not what the world is saying. I wanted to recuperate. You learn to enjoy the game a lot more. I looked at it as an off season. I got to spend time with my family,” he said. “At the same time, I missed being away from action. We were mindful of the fact there is no Test cricket till the ODI World Cup. In my rehab, I was not preparing for a T20 game. I was always preparing for the WC. I have been bowling 10, 12 and even 15 overs. We kept that in mind that we are preparing for one-day competition and not a four-over competition. You have to keep working your way up.”

When he takes the field on Friday, it will be not just the team management and selectors but every Indian cricket fan who will be keeping their fingers crossed hoping that he doesn’t get injured. Bumrah, however, isn’t thinking about all that. Through the conversation he keeps repeating two phrases “enjoy the game” and “to not be unrealistic”. Over the next three T20Is, all he wants, and everyone knows will happen, is to run in and give his everything as he always has.

CAN NEXT-GEN TAKE CHARGE?

With several IPL talents in the mix for the T20I series against Ireland that begins on Friday, a look at key talking points for India...

Eyes on Tilak

Since the arrival of Rishabh Pant, not many have stirred such reactions in a short period, especially in white-ball cricket. Tilak Varma has done it in two seasons of IPL and has shown signs of promise on T20I debut. The first couple of matches in Ireland could be the audition for whether the team management will take the plunge and carry him to Sri Lanka for Asia Cup.

Prasidh’s pace

Much like Jasprit Bumrah, Prasidh Krishna too is coming back from injury and will be keen to prove his fitness. As someone who can run in at pace and hit the deck hard, Prasidh was a part of the ODI setup in Bumrah’s absence before he got injured. The team management would want both pacers to do well, as they will need at least one of them in the first XI.

SAMSON RUNNING OUT OF CHANCES

While he might not have gotten multiple series in the same slot, whatever chances he got in West Indies Sanju Samson hasn't made use of it. In a World Cup year with several names coming into the mix, one would want to seize every opportunity that comes and Samson has failed at it. Will he make a mark to seal his spot for Asia Cup?

Antim eyes gold, father fears injury

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

ANTIM Panghal skipped the U-20 Asian Championships held in Amman City, Jordan last month as the tournament was close on the heels of the selection trials for the Asian Games. She would have done the same with the U-20 World Championships going on in the same city had she known the dates of selection trials for the Senior World Championships, which is also a qualifier for the 2024 Paris Olympics.

Cutting weight is an uphill task for any wrestler and for Antim it’s even tougher. She usually weighs around 58-59kg and has to lose around 6 kilograms ahead of any international event to fit in her weight category of 53kg. As Worlds offers no weight concession, even a gram in excess could render a wrestler ineligible. Well-versed with the cons, Antim decided to compete at the 2023 U-20 Worlds in Amman City as by then trials date for senior Worlds was not known. The ad-hoc committee running the sport in the country announced the dates of trials on August 14 but Antim had already reached Jordan by then in her bid to defend her 53kg title. She even bulldozed her opponents to storm into the final on Thursday and be in line to become the first wrestler from the country to win back-to-back Worlds titles.

It certainly is heartening news for Antim and her father Ram Niwas Panghal but the latter is also worried about his daughter’s fitness and health ahead of two marquee events — Senior Worlds and Asian Games. Kept as a standby earlier, Antim is set to represent the country in the Asian Games after Vinesh Phogat pulled out of the event due to a knee injury.

“She wouldn’t have participated (in U-20 Worlds) had the ad-hoc panel announced the trial dates earlier. She already competed in the high-intensity Asian Games trials less than a month ago. In Worlds, a wrestler has to cut weight twice as the competition is held across two days. Now, she will reach India on August 20 and has to cut weight again for senior Worlds trials scheduled on August 25. This can make her vulnerable ahead of the Asian Games and senior Worlds,” father Ram Niwas told this daily.

Ram Niwas asserted he will demand exemption from Worlds trials for Antim from the ad-hoc panel. “How can they force an athlete to take part in such high-intensity events with a little gap between them? The panel is there to make life easy for athletes not vice-versa. I strongly feel Antim should be exempted from the Worlds trials and if that is not possible, she should be given some time to recover.” Antim will take on Mariia Yefremova of Ukraine, a two-time U-17 World champion, in the final on Friday. Apart from Antim, her namesake and Savita also entered the 65kg and 62kg finals respectively. Reena (57kg) and Harshita (72kg) are also in contention for a bronze medal each.

Top prize for Priya

Priya Malik (76kg) became only the second Indian woman to win U-20 gold as she beat Laura Celine Kuehn of Germany to finish first. Arju won 68kg bronze. With two gold, India matched its best show in the event achieved in 2001 when Palwinder Cheema and Ramesh Kumar grabbed the world junior title.

Rhodes bats for surfing and its role in maintaining fitness

KALYANI MANGALE @Chennai

WITH Mamallapuram hosting the International Surf Open, part of World Surf League (WSL) Qualifying Series (QS) 3,000, for the first time in India, the former South African cricketer Jonty Rhodes believes the sport has a bright future in India. The 54-year-old, who started surfing only after retiring from international cricket, said that surfing is a complete workout and it has even helped some of the Lucknow Super Giants players in the India Premier League.

“There is a lot of Surfing and Yoga that go hand in hand. Surfers use a lot of upper body, upper back, and shoulders, like yoga. And you need flexibility because the waves are not still and smooth. Surfers require hand strength, strong glutes, and a hamstring,” Rhodes told this daily during an informal chat on Thursday. “In IPL, with the Lucknow Giants, a few of us came down to Goa for a break. I got some of the boys surfing lessons. When they started, for the first 2-3 waves, they struggled but later they thoroughly enjoyed it,” the LSG fielding coach said.

If there’s one sportsperson who has seen the evolution of surfing in the country and more so in Chennai, it has to be Jonty Rhodes, the former South Africa cricketer. He has been a regular figure at the Kovalam surfing and music festival and had helped popularise the sport. He felt the sport can be taken up as a fitness ritual as well. “You are in only chest-deep water, so when you start surfing, you become less fearful of the ocean, it’s a complete workout. Cross-fit is more about strength and power. This is more about flexibility and agility. And it certainly helps the upper body strength. Surfing is a great way to combine all of the workouts.”

Jonty Rhodes | ASHWIN PRASATH

Rhodes represented South Africa in 297 international matches including 245 ODIs and 52 Tests and announced his retirement in 2003. After retirement, he chose surfing to keep fit. “I grew up near the coast in Durban but never really got in the ocean. I used to play other sports like hockey, tennis, and football but never surfing. When I retired in 2003, I decided no more to run and bought myself a mountain bike and a surfboard to stay fit. I only started surfing at the age of 33. It is a difficult sport to learn, but a great physical activity.”

As the ambassador of the Surfing Federation of India along with Paddy Upton, who is now working with Indian men’s hockey team as mental trainer, Rhodes has supported the rise of surfing in India. “I have been involved with the Surfing Federation of India, not in an official capacity but to promote the game,” Rhodes said. He also recalled the beginning of the Covilong Point Surf, Yoga and Music Festival, which helped set the groundwork for the international surfing meet. “On the coast of Tamil Nadu, we had this surf, yoga, and music festival. If it was not for yoga and music, nobody would have come to watch surfing at that time. Now surfing takes priority. The year after the pandemic we realized, surfing alone can stand up, without music as well because the surfing community in India has helped it grow.”

With surfing growing in India and Tamil Nadu taking the lion’s share in it, Rhodes congratulated the SFI and its president, Arun Vasu, on the achievements. “Coming back and seeing the standard of Indian surfing is amazing. It’s lot to do with the administration of the sport as well. It requires a lot of work behind the scenes, too. There was not much of structure there before and that’s the one thing Arun Vasu has changed in Surfing India over the last two years.”

Man City pocket Super Cup

PIRAEUS (GREECE): Manchester City won the UEFA Super Cup for the first time but needed penalties to beat Sevilla after a 1-1 draw in Athens. Youssef En-Nesyri’s first-half header gave the Spaniards the lead. European champions City were far from their slick best, but hit back to force the game to penalties through Cole Palmer’s header. City were then perfect from the spot and prevailed 5-4.

Shino Matsuda of Japan was simply unstoppable on Thursday

Japan surfers steal the show

ENS @Chennai

JAPAN’S Shino Matsuda was the standout performer on Thursday in the ongoing Tamil Nadu International Surf Open World Surf League (WSL) Qualifying Series (QS) 3,000 in Mahabalipuram Beach.

Matsuda posted the highest two-wave total of the event so far in the Round of 16 and then backed it up with another heat win in the quarterfinals. It will be an all-Japan affair in the semifinals as Matsuda takes on Kana Nakashio, who also had an impressive day.

In the men’s section, another Japanese surfer was on song. Rinta Ooto continued his charge after a solid heat win in the Round of 16 which included an excellent 8.25.

Bronze for men’s pistol team

ENS @ Chennai

INDIAN pistol shooters put up a subdued show on Day 1 of the ISSF World Championships in Baku, Azerbaijan. All the air pistol shooters could not get past the qualification hurdle.

In the men’s 10m air pistol, Shiva Narwal shot a total of 579 to finish 17th. A spot behind him was Sarabjot Singh with a tally of 578. The top-eight finishers earn the right to compete in the final. China’s Bowen Zhang was the topper in the qualification stage and he went on to dominate the finals. Two finalists, Mikec Damir and Ismail Keles, had already secured an Olympic quota before entering the final and they finished second and fourth, respectively. That meant the shooters who finished sixth and seventh won quotas apart from Zhang and third-placed Kiril Kirov of Bulgaria. Liu Junhui of China finished fifth but he’s ineligible as only one quota is allowed from a particular country (per category).

The men’s 10m air pistol team members rejoice after claiming bronze

The Indian shooters ended up with a consolation prize as their combined tally of 1734 was enough to fetch them a bronze medal in the team event.

In the corresponding women’s event, the Indians were well below the qualifying standards. Esha Singh finished 32nd with a tally of 572 while Palak shot 570 to finish 40th. Divya TS shot 566 to end up 66th. In the finals, Jiang Ranxin edged former champ Anna Korakaki of Greece to win gold.

The Indian skeet shooters also began their journey. In a category where the margin for error is bare minimum, Anant Jeet Singh Naruka was the best-placed Indian at 45th spot with a tally of 48 after two rounds. The women fared much better with Dhaliwal Parinaaz placed at 17th after an effort of 71 after three rounds in Day 1 of qualification. Ganemat Sekhon was placed 30th. Darshna Rathore was 38th. It has to be noted that the men have three more rounds to play on Day 2 and they’ll be hoping to catch the leaders. The women have two more rounds of qualification left.

BLOCKCHAIN technology owes its popularity largely to cryptocurrency and non-fungible tokens (NFT), both of which are negotiating regulatory hurdles in many countries. However, the revolutionary blockchain technology has applications across sectors and its full potential is still to be tapped. Here's why:

Simply put, blockchain is a ledger that records transactions which cannot be altered or manipulated. In technical terms, it is a distributed ledger technology that allows secure, transparent, and tamper-proof transactions. Shrikant Bhalerao, founder and CEO of Seracle, says it is a shared database that is maintained by a large network of computers.

Each block in the chain contains a record of transactions, and each block is linked to the previous block by a cryptographic hash. "This makes it very difficult to alter or delete data in the blockchain. Financial and banking industry, supply chain, education, oil & gas, international trade, customs, and insurance are few of the several industries which can benefit from the blockchain technology," he explains. Apart from storing and recording transactions for cryptocurrencies, blockchain can be used for money transfers, payment processing, Internet of Things (IoT), healthcare etc.

It helps organisations monitor supply chains and address inefficiencies. Also, it helps reduce banking transfer fees as transactions are settled in a few seconds. Not just banks, insurance firms are now also exploring how they could use the technology in clearing and settlement.

Blockchain is gaining traction in healthcare as this technology makes maintaining electronic medical records of patients more efficient as well as secure. From $1.2 billion in 2021, the market size of blockchain in healthcare is expected to grow to $121 billion by 2030, according to global market research company Market Research Future.

Future of blockchain

Since decentralisation offers more transparency and security, more companies are likely to leverage this technology. Nasscom in its recent report said that of the 5.84 lakh patents filed in India between FY10 and FY22, as many as 2.66 lakh were from the technology domain of which 1.6 lakh were from emerging technologies like artificial intelligence (AI), IoT, big data, cybersecurity and blockchain. This shows blockchain experts are in great demand in the job market.

Although it will revolutionise the financial sector, healthcare and real estate, high energy consumption, security and regulation issues remain the challenges of using blockchain. Also, with the integration of AI, blockchain can enhance automation across various sectors. Blockchain-enabled applications will transform payments and financial institutions in future. With increased awareness, blockchain education will spread to the grassroots level and it will soon transform organisations.

USE CASES

Smart contracts: These are digital contracts stored on a blockchain that are automatically executed when predetermined terms and conditions are met.

Decentralisation: Facilitates transparency into everything that is being built on the blockchain.

Tokenisation: This allows real world assets to be converted into tokens which creates more democracy and allows more people to enter the market.

INDIAN INNOVATION

How AstraZeneca sped up vaccine discovery

VAITHEESWARAN B @Chennai

BRITISH multinational pharma company AstraZeneca has taken a series of efforts to speed up drug discovery, development and bring them to market since the pandemic. The company has a global technology and innovation centre at Chennai that focuses on information technology, day-to-day operations and innovations including data analysis and insights, designing clinical trial protocols, using immersive technologies, telemedicine for clinical trials, and artificial intelligence models for drug discovery and development.

The Chennai facility, which started as an IT back office, has now broadened out into R&D and other services and is called the Global Capacity Centre or GCC.

Along with its Bengaluru office, it now has over 3,000 employees in the country.

The pandemic has changed the way businesses work forever and it couldn't be truer for anyone than AstraZeneca. It spurred a lot of innovation in the industry with its Indian centres being the key drivers.

"Earlier, data capabilities were in silos in every department. We brought everything together. We have established an enterprise data foundation which is run from Chennai," says Siva Padmanabhan, managing director of AstraZeneca India Pvt Ltd and global IT head of the company.

This helped AstraZeneca when it had to work with 60 contract manufacturers, share manufacturing and distribution plans in weeks without taking nine months.

In an interaction with TNIE, he explained the introduction of new tech architecture to work during the pandemic. "We tried real-time stabilisation study using barcode and underlying tech architecture without waiting for it for two years, thereby speeding up the product hitting the market. Those can be used in other drugs as well," he adds. Noting that R&D has been getting more and more digitized, he says that there is no need to everything inside a lab. "You can simulate a lot of things electronically and even conduct experiments on digital twins, model proteins, and other things. So, we are able to support not only discovery but also development of medicines like clinical trials and so on remotely because we are able to gather the data," Padmanabhan says.

He explains that it's more about data insight and analytics. The data gathered from clinical trials all over the world need to be analysed to understand the patterns. Once it is clear what the trial is actually showing, you can decide whether to proceed to the next phase or not, or whether to change the protocols.
